

WANT INTEREST OF TOWNSPEOPLE IN DEBATING LEAGUE

Chicago Drainage Canal Will Be Discussed By Fox Valley Schools

Considerable interest is being evidenced in the Chicago drainage canal problem, the subject which Fox valley high schools will debate on March 23, since representatives of the Chicago sanitary district are being sent to many of the lake port towns to present the Chicago case. These lake ports include three of the cities which are in for the Fox River Valley Debate league with Appleton. They are Sheboygan, Manitowish and Green Bay.

The Chicago method of disposing of its sewage was chosen for debate by the league because of its local interest to the lake port towns which will be directly affected by the lowering of the lake level as the result of Chicago taking 10,000 cubic feet of water per second out of Lake Michigan to flush the drainage canal. The problem of sewage disposal is facing practically every city and the drainage canal is the way which Chicago has worked out and to which all lake port towns object because of the lowering of the water level.

Since the state of Wisconsin has filed one of the suits to restrain Chicago from taking the amount of water necessary for the canal from the lake, all citizens of Wisconsin are more or less directly interested in the project. In the lake towns the local support of the citizens will be great and the Appleton high school teams are anxious to interest the Appleton people in the problem so that they will attend the debate.

High school debaters have found it hard to understand that the townspeople support the athletic enterprises of the school readily while little interest is shown in debates and contests. The boys are anxious to have many citizens present on March 21. K. A. Windesheim is the debate coach.

WANT G. A. R. TO AID PATRIOTIC CLUBS

A plea of cooperation with patriotic organizations in their efforts to promote patriotism is contained in a letter from H. W. Rood, Madison, patriotic instructor of the Wisconsin department of the Grand Army of the Republic to members of George Eggenston post here. Mr. Rood said the Grand Army, because of the age of its members is not able to initiate patriotic movements but it can give a great measure of cooperation to the organizations of younger men engaged in the same work. The letter urged that the patriotic organizations work together in harmony for a common cause and that Civil war veterans express appreciation for the help their younger comrades in arms are giving them.

STATE EDUCATOR WILL SPEAK HERE SATURDAY

Miss Margaret Johnson, state supervisor of home economics in vocational schools, will visit the vocational school on Friday, and on Saturday she will speak before the Fox River Valley Home Economics association. The association meets at 10 o'clock in the morning in the vocational school. It is expected that Miss Abbie Mariott of the University of Wisconsin is to be here also.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over RHEUMATISM

Has Also Proven Remarkably Successful in Severe Cases of Rheumatic Neuritis

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities commonly called uric acid deposits were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it with great success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store and drug stores everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

Modern Children Have Not Forsaken Old Fairy Tales

Yes, sir, Appleton youngsters are as fond of fairy stories as they ever were. This has been a disputed question for some time and one that was causing some folks to wonder whether there was any grounds for the statement that the young people of today are bored with stories of giants and elves, of animals that talk and fairy princesses who always reward good children.

One of the first things that refutes the argument that children are deserting fairy tales is the fact that of all types of books in the children's department of Appleton Public Library there are more fairy tales than of any other kind. And they're not kept on the shelves either, for the boys and girls are always demanding them. The only change that has been noticed is that now the books with just one story of 200 or 300 pages, which is usually printed in coarse type, is the most popular.

The boys and girls like animal stories, too, especially the ones in which the animals are made to talk and act as humans. "Grimm's Fairy Tales" and "Anderson's Fairy Tales" are two books that have been popular since the days of our great grandparents and they are just as popular as ever. These books are collections of fairy stories many written by anonymous authors. The books have been compiled by modern authors and edited with new pictures that make them quite attractive.

SET FORTH IDEALS

Ideals that appeal to childish fancy are set forth in these books and because the average child is more generous and open minded than an older person they appeal to him. Some of these are brought out in stories of bad and good children. The child who is always good drops pearls and precious jewels from his mouth when he speaks but he who is evil lets forth reptiles and snakes when he talks. Most of the stories have morals such as these contained in them and told as simply as fairy stories usually are, the points brought out are easily digested by the child's mind.

Then, too, the average boy or girl likes to read about strange things, things that probably never will happen to them. The story of a girl who became a princess because she was good the tale of a boy who was rewarded by the fairies because he befriended an old woman who in reality was a good fairy in disguise, all the things tend to bring forth all the good qualities in a child, library authorities say, and because they appeal to the better side of any person, child or grown up—for they say at the library that older folks call for fairy stories too—it is safe to say that as long there are boys and girls compilers or authors of fairy stories need not worry for lack of demand.

POLICE SOON WILL COLLECT BACK TAX

Delinquents Making Past Due Payments Of Taxes At City Hall

Although the "official" time for paying taxes ended on Jan. 31 a large number of taxpayers still are making payments at the city hall, according to Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer. A collection fee of 2 per cent is charged on all taxes, except on dogs paid after Jan. 31.

Most of the tax payments are on personal property, income and dog taxes, it was said in the city hall. The number of delinquent taxpayers owning real estate will not be greater than usual when the list is turned over to the county treasurer, it was said.

Delinquent personal property, income and dog taxes will be turned over to the police for collection within a few days, in compliance with the law. Delinquents, however, may continue to pay at the city hall. All these taxes should have been paid before the first day of this month.

AMUNDSEN ATTENDS FARM AND HOME WEEK PROGRAMS

Farm and Home week is being observed from Feb. 4 to 9 at the college of agriculture at Madison. The program includes an alfalfa school, poultry school, livestock program, agricultural program, breeders' association meetings, state drainage meeting and dairy schools. Among those from Outagamie co. in attendance is R. A. Amundsen, county agent.

Tried Other Medicines For Over Forty Years

Among the thousands of Wisconsin people to whom the Tanlac treatment has brought the joys of good health is Mrs. Peter Bullette of 1308 LaSalle st. Racine. Mrs. Bullette says: "Tanlac has done me good that can not be estimated in money. For forty years I have suffered and known little of good health. Never had an appetite and could eat and digest so little that I was always in such a weak, exhausted state that I could not even attend to my housework."

"Of all the medicines I have taken during those forty years only Tanlac suited my case and from it I have found the best health I ever enjoyed. My weight has increased all of twenty five pounds. Tanlac gives me a splendid appetite, perfect digestion and keeps me feeling fine. Nothing can take the place of Tanlac with me. Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 41 million bottles sold. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills, adv."

NEW GENERATORS AT PUMPING STATION

Two electrical generators are being installed in the pumping station of the water works plant to replace two old machines whose capacity was inadequate. The new machines are rated as 25 kilowatt capacity each and replace 15 kilowatt machines.

The water department generates electricity required for lighting the plant and driving its motors by utilizing waste energy from the engines which drive the pumps. The generators develop at a low cost, the electricity which the water department would have to buy if it did not generate its own.

GEOLOGISTS TEST BANK FOUNDATION

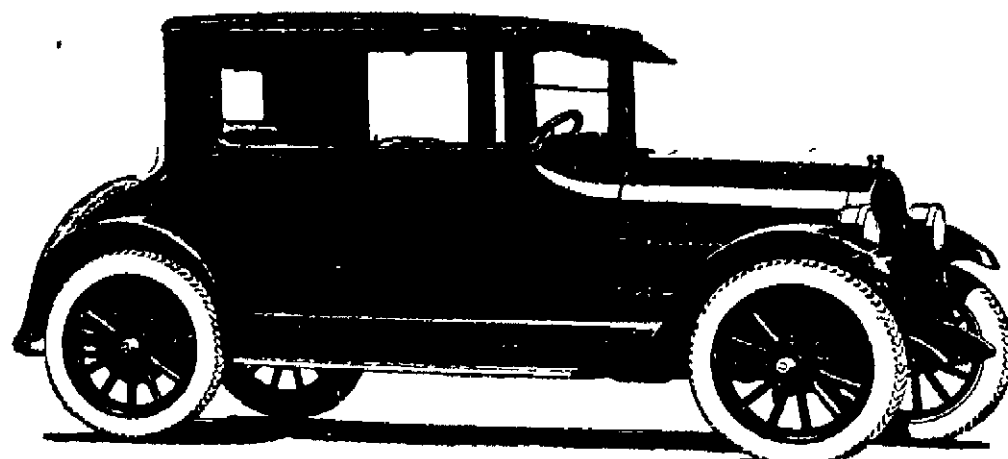

In order to be certain that the ground beneath the proposed Citizens National bank building is sound enough to hold the weight of the six story building, geological tests will be made to determine the soil content before any further work is done on the plans for the building. The tests will determine the nature of the ground for 50 feet beneath the basement level of the building.

Every precaution is being taken to make the building absolutely safe. Many delays in the drawing of the plans have been occasioned by the caution with which the building is being planned.

LET'S HAVE SHOW EVERY YEAR, CAR DEALERS SUGGEST

Automobile Exhibit Is Success From Business Stand-point

Not only are automobile dealers well satisfied with the success of the auto show which ended Tuesday, considering the inclement weather and the fact that it is the first of its kind ever produced in Appleton, but they are already looking forward to holding another one here next year.

The thing regretted most about the show was the lack of room, and the exhibitors feel that Appleton should have a large auditorium that could accommodate big exhibitions of this kind. Dealers also confess that the show has helped in bringing the dealers closer together and aiding them to understand each other's problems as well as their makes of cars. They lauded the show for the benefits that accrue to the dealers, the visiting public and the community as a whole.

"One of the advantages of an auto show," said R. K. Wolter of the Wolter Implement company, "is that it gives the public an opportunity to get into a public place where it is free to look over the cars shown and draw comparisons. It can check up on the details and satisfy itself on the type of car wanted, get ideas of the relative merits and consider the offers of the best value for the dollar. A buyer should consider three things. He should decide first, how much money he wants to spend; secondly, how much he is interested in, and thirdly, on the makes that conform to the specifications, and then gradually eliminate them down to the one he wants."

WORTH THE MONEY
"The attendance this year could not possibly have been better considering the weather," was the opinion of August Brandt. "It was well worth the money spent. The first two days drew an attendance of 1,000 each day. To the public it was well worth the 25 cents they paid for admission, as the show gave them a chance to compare the cars standing side by side, such as they cannot do adequately by reading the advertisements and seeing the cuts. The show has brought the dealers closer together and has helped to make them better business men."

"The great value of an automobile show to a community," said J. T. McCann, "lies in the fact that many people in the country who haven't the opportunity of going to the shows in the big cities, can see practically the same standard models in a local show. Nearly everybody is interested in automobiles. I think the show was a success, considering the weather. Why, there were 1,000 paid admissions on both Saturday and Sunday. I never having a yearly show. Our only trouble is that the building is not large enough. There are five dealers that might have exhibited, had there been room, and there should have been more exhibits of auto accessories."

H. P. Euck of the Valley Inn Buick company explained that the public always takes greater interest in a thing when it has to pay for it. The 25 cents charged for admission made them examine the cars more closely than they would do through the dealer's show window or in the sales room. Jane Pirl of the Auto Staffer company was of the opinion that a mid-winter auto show stimulates interest that usually lags at this time of the year and yet should be active. He said the show actually created sales for the dealers, aside from providing a number of prospects.

According to Carl W. Cobb, district manager for the Rickenbacker cars, the show was similar to the Milwaukee show in that it was hampered by bad weather and yet brought in a number of prospects for the dealers. People who couldn't go to every dealer enjoyed going to the armory to examine the cars exhibited collectively. He said the dealers are planning now for a bigger and better show next year.

O. R. Knoch, speaking for the Chevrolet and Oldsmobile agencies said that the show had stimulated business in a season that is considered dull and produced a number of prospects.

"An automobile show, besides being a great thing for the dealers, helps the other merchants in a community by drawing the crowds to the city," said L. E. Maxwell, sales manager of the Tri-City Nash company.

E. F. Schneider, manager of the Appleton Auto company, declared that the prospective customers met at an automobile show usually are more sincere in their inquiries and easier to deal with than those that drop in at the sales room. He said that, to the dealers it was worth their while to put on the display, and he favors repeating it next year.

H. H. Cole, manager of the auto department of Langstadt-Meyer company, said that the customers get a much better understanding of the cars by comparing them at an automobile show than by running from one garage to another. He also favors another show next year.

Came To Cicero When Oxen Trod Forest Trail

Special to Post-Crescent

Cicero—Life of the primitive and life of the twentieth century have been lived by Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Sherman of this township, who are among the few remaining settlers who can link, by personal experience the pioneering days of Outagamie-co with those of the present. They have seen the transition from the yoke of oxen treading forest trails to the days of the motorcar speeding along concrete highways through thickly settled townships.

Their part in reshaping forest-covered Outagamie-co into a rich farming locality dates from March 29, 1876 when their marriage took place at Cicero. Mr. Sherman had come to the county in 1868 from Canada and Mrs. Sherman from the same country two years later.

BOUGHT WOODED LAND
Those early days are described in the words of Mr. Sherman, who says: "The first two years of our married life were spent with my father, Wright Sherman. Then we bought 40 acres of land back in the woods and commenced farming, using a yoke of oxen and one cow. A log shanty was erected and served as our home for some time. We began clearing land and tried to do a certain amount each year."

"It was my custom to go to the log King camps each winter to help earn a livelihood. While I was away Mrs. Sherman attended to all the farm chores in addition to caring for her children. Among her other duties was that of educating her little girl, because there were no schools here. She taught the child in this way until she was eight years old, at which time the first school was built."

"Spring was the time for making of maple sugar and syrup. We also cut many cords of wood as we cleared new land each year. Mrs. Sherman did her housework at night in order to help me during the day."

WIFE HELPED HARVEST
"When harvesting time came, I cradled the grain and Mrs. Sherman took it by hand and bound the bundles up. Our burdens were made easier when our son Walter reached the age of 17 and helped us in the woods and at home. This gave Mrs. Sherman more time for her housework, but she also gave part of her time to nursing at homes of neighbors."

"In a few years we saved enough to build a frame house and buy more cows and a team of horses. Considerable of our food was obtained from the wild lands all about us. The summer gave a big supply of berries which were canned for winter. Meat of wild animals was obtained in the winter."

"Our first vehicle was a road cart, which we thought quite a comfortable conveyance. Then we obtained a top buggy. Now we have an automobile. Seems strange to compare those times with the days of the oxen and the lumber wagon we used when we went to church. The men wore shoe packs and overalls and the women calico dresses when they went to their Sunday worship."

This couple still lives in the farm homestead. They keep two horses, three cows and some pigs and chickens. Their son Walter rents the farm from them and operates it.

Mr. Sherman will be 74 years old on March 8 and Mrs. Sherman 69 on July 11. They will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in two years. Both are quite active and engage in part of the farm work.

Three children were born to these pioneers. One of the girls died in infancy. The others are Walter, who lives on the farm here, and Mrs. William Marks of Briarton.

LAFOLLETTE PICKS G. O. P. DELEGATES

Four Major State Officials Included in Delegate Nominees

Madison—The seven LaFollette Progressive candidates for delegates at large to the Republican National Convention, were announced today by Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., state Republican chairman. The list includes the four major state officials. It follows: Governor John J. Blaine, Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman, Attorney General Herman L. Ekern, State Treasurer Solomon Levitan, Miss Lilia E. Johnson, Eau Claire; Edward Voight, Sheboygan, and Clough Gates, Superior.

Miss Johnson is the only woman included in the delegate at large list. Miss Johnson is county superintendent of schools of Eau Claire county and has taken an active part in teacher activities throughout the state. The selection of the four major officials, including Secretary of State Zimmerman, as delegate candidates is understood to have been a compromise measure to prevent objection to the LaFollette program. It has been reported that because of friction between Governor Blaine and Secretary Zimmerman, the latter would not be included in the list.

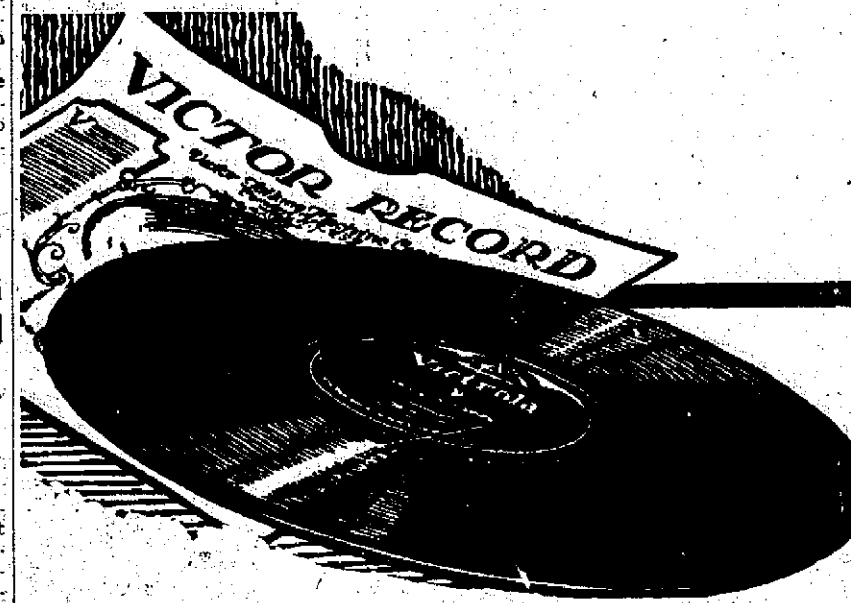

Moves From City
Peter Karavakis, owner of Fox River restaurant at 838 College-ave, moved his fixtures to South Milwaukee Thursday, where he has purchased a building at 1029 Milwaukee-ave and will open a restaurant within the next few days. He owns the building here which he vacates.

Old Timer Has Forgotten That Times Changed

A letter is held at the Appleton post-office for delivery coming from one who was probably an old resident of this city. It is addressed to "John McKeever, Old Green Bay Road, Seven miles from city." The old Green Bay road followed Green Bay-st, went through Riverside and St. Joseph cemeteries, and beyond to Kaukauna.

THE ORGY AT WASHINGTON

The senate has whipped itself into a state of acute neurosis over the oil scandal. It foams at the mouth with oil, and oily tears trickle down from its lachrymose ducts. It breathes and exhales oil. If it would take some internally it might recover its equilibrium sooner. It is well enough to have the scandal laid bare in all its ramifications, in fact there is no escaping this duty, but it is hardly necessary for the senate to lash itself into the fury of breast beating. Its politics, past and present, is not on such a high plane that it can strike too austere a pose of horror. The avidity of its attempt to make politics out of departmental misfeasance and betrayal of public trust is apt, unless a sobering hand gets the ascendancy, to make it ridiculous.

Oil is not partisan. Like water, it runs in the channels of least resistance. The Democrats may not be swimming in it, as are the Republicans, but they are slightly bespattered. Mr. Denby, the cabinet Main street, may enjoy bathing in oil, and the Democrats may lift up their skirts in sacred terror of its presence, but everyone knows what scruples the politicians of both parties, and their leaders are in the senate, exercise in the nomination and election of candidates for office, in the writing of party platforms, in the pressure they bring to bear upon presidents and others with appointive power to get their friends into office. The rules of the political game may permit lynch law in dealing with culprits, but resort to it in the senate is not an altogether edifying spectacle.

What the senate proposes to do to cleanse Washington of oil and to punish those guilty of unwise or venal affinity with it is right and proper, but the less it smacks of political reprisal and political hysteria the better and more lasting will be the house cleaning. Enough rottenness, incompetency and corruption has been proven to keep our agencies of justice busy for some time. If full justice is meted out the public may be left to its own reaction.

What the public would like to see is something that goes beyond exposure and punishment, namely a genuine and conscientious determination on the part of senatorial orators who pride themselves on their party influence to bring about political reform that will give a larger measure of guarantee to the country against a repetition of official abuse and public and private corruption like that which has thrown it into paroxysms of alternating indignation and delight.

AN UNPLEASANT INCIDENT

The German government, according to press dispatches, has deliberately refused to send the customary condolence on the death of Woodrow Wilson. It appears to have instructed its representative at Washington not to display at the embassy any expression of sorrow or respect. Its action thus became an indignity not only to the widow and family of a former president, but to the nation as well. So strong was the feeling at Washington that Wednesday morning an American flag was found planted in the yard of the German embassy, placed there during the night presumably by irritated Americans. The German government then modified its position to the extent of ordering its flag displayed at half mast over the embassy Wednesday afternoon.

The attitude of the German embassy is explained on the theory that Mr. Wilson died a private citizen. This is true, and yet the death of an ex-president, the same as of any former ruler, is an occasion of national mourning, and is taken official cognizance of by the government. Mr. Coolidge had issued an order for a national display of mourning for thirty days in memory of Mr. Wilson. It is both a custom and propriety of nations accredited to another government to give suitable evidence of respect at a time of state mourning. It is a respect due not merely to the family of the deceased, but to the nation as well.

Germany may harbor feelings of hatred for Mr. Wilson, but presumably it entertains good will for the government of the United States, for we have made a treaty of peace with it and have reestablished diplomatic relations. It was not Mr. Wilson who made war on Germany, it was the government of the United States, therefore when Germany offers indignity to the memory of its war president at the time of his death and mourning by his country, the affront is to the United States.

Germany does not hesitate to appeal to the United States for aid to relieve it from hunger and other suffering. It does not hesitate to call upon the United States for assistance in working itself out of financial chaos. It is glad to receive from it and its people succor and sympathy in a variety of forms. Mr. Wilson had it in his power to carry the allied victory into Berlin. He had it in his power to go the limit in the humiliation and punishment of Germany. Yet he followed and advocated a policy of moderation, and was ready to help Germany to its feet in every possible way. His post-war policies, had they been accepted, would have saved Germany from disastrous consequences. Our representation on the reparations commission alone would have been of incalculable value to her.

It comes with poor grace from a nation so thoroughly beaten in war and so helpless in peace, to the point even of relying upon American generosity for the very life of its people, to wilfully exhibit toward the United States, which is the best friend Germany has on the face of the earth, the disrespect that marked its course on the occasion of Mr. Wilson's death. The German government is now trying to make it appear that the ambassador's act is his own, for which it is not responsible. If that is the case, he ought to be recalled. If it is not true we would be justified in asking to have him recalled. It is an unpleasant incident, to say the least.

ANOTHER SECRET SOCIETY

A new international secret society, the New Crusaders, is spreading. Already it is said to have a million members in England. Branches are being established in other countries. Organizers are at work in Canada and expect soon to invade the United States. While the New Crusaders is a British organization, by origin, it expects to become international.

The members of the New Crusaders, when attending lodge, wear a white gown with a large red cross on the breast. It is a secret society, but there are no masks. What it says it seeks, is in a nutshell, the universal brotherhood of man, regardless of races, nationalities and creeds.

The founders started with the idea that international frontiers and their political complications are the basic causes of wars. So the New Crusaders preach the gospel, that war can be eliminated only when the world's people forget frontiers and boundaries, and tolerant, cooperate with other nations to check politicians.

All this is an interesting attempt to bring the people of the world together in a common understanding. It is a sort of unofficial League of Nations. The crusaders are opposed to violence. They are, however, exerting influence in elections.

With a start of a million membership in England alone, they have excellent prospects of becoming a powerful influence in world affairs.

THE MACHINE GUN SNEEZE

Not a few cases of poliomyelitis (they fever) still pass as "colds," and so fond are some folks of the meaningless term that they even dub certain cases of poliomyelitis "colds." I have mentioned here certain cases of chronic sinusitis, particularly infection in the ethmoid of the sphenoid sinuses, which so closely mimic hay fever as to be mistaken for hay fever by the victim or by the doctor who employs second sight in lieu of instruments of precision in diagnosis. These sinusitis cases which masquerade as hay fever betray themselves in occasional periods of activity out of season, that is, casual periods of activity out of season, that is, a time of year when there is no pollen in the atmosphere and therefore no possibility of hay fever.

There is another rather characteristic and not very rare condition which sometimes makes a noise like hay fever. It is hyperesthetic rhinitis. It is a most interesting condition in some one else I suspect too, that may contribute just a dirty little bit to the absurd notion of "taking cold from a draft." For one subject to hyperesthetic rhinitis can develop his alleged "cold" in a startlingly brief space of time, and you know the sooner symptoms follow a fancied "exposure" the more convincing seems the evidence.

Attacks of hyperesthetic rhinitis are characterized by furious sneezing, or violent are the paroxysms sneezing that it has been called the machine gun sneeze. The victim rips off perhaps 50 sneezes in quick succession and soon afterwards he runs at the nose, a thin serous irritating discharge. Remember, I said this condition is sometimes mistaken for hay fever, and that it is evidence brought by the deluded adherent of the "catching cold" sophistry. A draft or wet feet or an insignificant alteration of atmosphere temperature or the amount or kind of clothing worn will readily incite a paroxysm of hyperesthetic rhinitis. But the term is a misnomer, for there is no rhinitis (inflammation in the nose) in such cases. The fact that sneezes occur out of season as well as in the hay fever season distinguishes the condition from actual poliomyelitis.

A calcium deficiency in the blood and other tissues of the body is probably responsible for hyperesthetic rhinitis, for that matter calcium deficiency may account for the susceptibility of some persons to regular hay fever. Many hay fever sufferers have reported alleviation from taking calcium chloride or calcium lactate after each meal throughout the summer season. Even a small dose of calcium lactate, five grains, three times daily, after food, and well diluted, seems to relieve or diminish susceptibility to hyperesthetic rhinitis. Similar treatment has seemed to diminish the tendency to sneezing in cases of asthma. The medicine is the seizure daily for about three weeks, and after that once or twice a day for a few months.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Rare Brotherly Affection

We are two brothers, both over 60. We can wear the same clothes, hats, shoes and collars and we do share each other's belongings. The elder brother, Horace, when a young man, contracted syphilis. He has no mark of blemish now that you could notice. We both wear a tooth taking them out at night and placing them in a glass of water, to ease the gums. Through a mistake we changed teeth, so that Horace has mine and I have his. Can I wear them without danger to my health?—T. Y.

Answer—Certainly. Just give them a good washing, as you would a bath tub, in a clinical thermometer, or a teaspoon brother had used.

Socks

For two years I have been "rolling my own" wearing stockings you would call them. A doctor claims it will lead to serious trouble for me later in life. I am 17 years old. Would like to know your opinion.—Peggy.

Answer—So far as hygiene or health may be concerned it is perfectly all right to do as you please about that.

Diphtheria Carrier

I would like to know what a diphtheria carrier is, the symptoms and characteristics of a carrier. The two weeks' precaution afterward—is there danger of giving or getting diphtheria during that time?—Mrs. R. W.

Answer—A diphtheria carrier is a person or sometimes a domestic animal that carries the diphtheria bacilli in the nose or throat, though not ill of diphtheria. I do not understand your other question. (Copyright, National Newspaper Service)

Find Wealth In Sale Of Rare Books

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C. — Book collecting is variously regarded as a hobby, a game, or a business. Even the collectors themselves are unable to agree as to what it is, and can not determine among themselves just what power it is that started the wild scramble for rare books. They are agreed, however, that more money is now being invested in great rarities of literary property than at any time in the history of the world.

Boon prices are being paid and the demand for old books and manuscripts is far ahead of the supply. Business men who make no pretense of possessing the enthusiasms of the true collector have been convinced that money shrewdly yielded in books is not only absolutely safe but almost equally certain to yield larger returns than money put into real estate, stocks or bonds, and they have done much toward stimulating the prevailing "bull" market.

Then there are the stories of lucky finds that prove immensely profitable to chance buyers. One such is that of a man out in Omaha, who dropped into a second-hand book shop not long ago and picked up for 10 cents a small paper-bound volume of Thackeray's "Second Funeral of Napoleon," published in London in 1841. A copy of this book brought almost $1,000, to be exact, at a sale in New York in 1920, so the Omaha citizen knew that fortune had smiled on him.

This story has sent hundreds of people browsing around old bookstores. The record price that has been paid for a printed book is $100,000. H. C. Folger, a New York collector, parted with that sum to gain possession of a copy of Shakespeare's First Collected Edition, containing nine plays, which was published in London in 1619. That was an advance of 25,000 per cent on the original price of the book, this precious edition having been bought by Edward Gwyne at the time of publication for approximately $2. In 1905 it was bought by Maraden J. Perry for 5,000 pounds. Dr. A. W. A. Rosenbach, who made the sale to Mr. Folger 10 years later, says that the book is worth $150,000 today.

The most expensive book in the world, according to this same authority, would be a perfect copy of Hamlet, first edition, 1603. It would be worth $200,000. Only two copies are known to be in existence. One, in the British Museum, has the title page missing, while the other, in the library of Henry E. Huntington, lacks the last leaf.

The Mazurkin copy of the Gutenberg Bible, so-called because it was found in the library of Cardinal Mazzarin in Paris, recently brought approximately $60,000 for the two volumes. Carl H. Pforzheimer who made the purchase has the satisfaction of knowing that his Gutenberg is the only copy in America of the first issue in an old binding. The Mazurkin Bible sold for 52 pounds in 1788, for 169 pounds in 1822, for 190 pounds in 1844 and for 698 pounds in 1920. It was sold for 2,650 pounds two decades later, and when his collection was sold several months ago in London the price had jumped to 9,500 pounds. Thus, since the first recorded sale of that copy of the Gutenberg Bible has increased some 23,000 per cent.

A. The Navy department says that the speed of the Shenandoah, as far as the ship's engines are concerned, will not exceed 70 miles per hour. Invite Mothers Of Pre-school Age Children To Attend Baby Clinic

Lack of means of reaching Appleton Womans clubhouse for the baby clinic on Friday need keep no mother from bringing her baby for examination. Mrs. A. G. Meating, who is chairman of the clinic, will arrange for transportation by automobile for any mothers who would like to have their children examined by Dr. Sylvia Steussey, who is loaned to Appleton by the state board of health.

Any one who can attend this clinic is urged to come now rather than at the March clinic which is likely to be the last of the year and therefore be attended by a large number. The doctor begins her examinations at 9 o'clock in the morning and continues until 6 o'clock in the evening. She has been examining about 40 babies during that time.

BLIND K.P. LEADER ISN'T LOOKING FOR SYMPATHY

Blind for 18 years, Frederick S. Attwood who speaks at the Knights of Pythias dinner and meeting at 630 in Castle hall Thursday night, has refused to be thrust off the path that leads to success. He gets as much enjoyment out of life as his more fortunate brethren. He goes to the movies, to football games, runs his typewriter, cuts the lawn and trims the shrubbery at his home. When winter comes he packs his suitcase and, without a traveling companion, takes the road on a lecture tour.

Attwood is a widely known lecturer and is a sure-fire prelate of the lodge of Knights of Pythias. Opportunity, no charity, he claims, is what blind men need. "I haven't a very high opinion of the man who thinks if he buys a pencil of a blind man he must have the pencil behind as a charitable act. There are 108 different occupations for blind men—all useful trades or occupations. A man without sight is no more to be pitied than a man with one leg."

Simple Home Treatment for Sore Throat

Raw, Sore, Inflamed Throats Can Be Greatly Relieved by Use of this Vaporizing Salve.

Here is a simple yet effective method to treat a sore throat. Gargle with warm salt water three times daily. Also swallow slowly every few hours a teaspoonful of Vicks.

At night apply Vicks over the throat and upper chest, rubbing well in. Then spread on thickly and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors and these vapors, inhaled all night long, go directly to the affected parts.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster drawing out the soreness and pain.

Vicks is equally good for hoarseness, tonsillitis, head and chest colds, and for the croupy colds of children.

Arrangements were made on Wednesday evening for a tenderfoot test and for the Corn Flower troop on Friday and for a tenderfoot test for all other scouts who have not taken this test the following Friday. The camp fire and scout work in nature study under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Rogers will take place on Feb. 23 rather than Feb. 16.

$5,000 GIFT LAUNCHES OSHKOSH CHURCH FUND

Oshkosh—The project looking toward the erection of a new church by the First Methodist congregation, received a decided impetus in the announcement that Nathan Paine, president of the Paine Lumber company, had pledged $5,000 toward the fund. The new church will cost approximately $90,000. The plan is to raise $25,000 among the members of the church and a similar amount from the citizens at large, leaving $40,000 on a mortgage to be taken care of later.

J. T. Quinlan, district manager of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., returned Wednesday night from Washington and Oregon where he spent about three weeks.

APPLETON AGAIN IN WIRE TOUCH WITH MILWAUKEE

Three Telegraph Lines Operating And Phone Wires Are Going Up

Except for wire communication with Milwaukee and snow-drifted streets, Appleton has returned to normalcy after three days of discomfort occasioned by the worst blizzard of this winter. Western Union Telegraph Company has three wires working into Milwaukee—two direct and one by a round about route. The third wire was placed in operation Thursday morning and the second came in Wednesday afternoon.

Telephone communication with Milwaukee still is out of but there is every assurance it will be restored before night. Practically all of the damage is outside of the Appleton district but repair crews from here have been sent to the storm area to assist in rebuilding the lines.

City crews, suffering exhaustion from the strenuous work and long hours of opening streets, are making rapid progress. Most of the important streets are now passable to traffic but a huge task of hauling away the snow and making the streets in the outskirts passable to automobiles still remains. Every available man and team is engaged in the work.

Difficulties of the street department are made more acute by numerous unreasonable requests which pour into the city engineer's office. Residents on out-of-way short streets are demanding speedy removal of snow even at the expense of heavy traffic strikes and the requests for help are not being met. The city's task, according to reports from the city hall.

Rest One Month Each Year If You Want Long Life

New York—Take a month's vacation! And take it every year—everybody—if you would keep fit. In doing so, there's scarcely a chance in the world that you'll ever see the inside of an insane asylum.

I suggest mother's design at least one month in it.

BEG PARDON

Because of a confusion of names, it was stated in the Post-Crescent Wednesday that A Durdell was one of the witnesses at the inquest into the death of Mrs. Anton Dorschner. The witness was William Durdell. A Durdell says he has never made a statement to anyone concerning the motives which might have prompted the slaying of Mrs. Dorschner.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

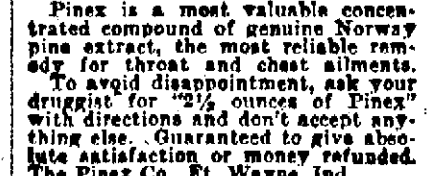

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Ends stubborn coughs and chest trouble like it.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens dirt, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MAKE COMEBACKS FROM FAILURES ALTHOUGH PAST 50

Three Renewals Of Success Prove That Age Is No Bar To Progress

Toronto, Can. — When capricious Lady Luck flips the dominos of fortune for an ill toss during the heyday of life, but brief still is occasioned amid the affairs of men upon Youth's retrieval of victory by a solar plexus success comeback. No one says "Poor fellow."

Hope springs eternal in the young heart, the world contends. Therefore occasional buffeting during the journey's start are for the best. Setbacks but strengthen character. And there is still a chance—provided one is under fifty.

Past this deadline, popular opinion has decreed that the step detoured from Fortune's highway can never again turn back nor face once more toward the dreamland goal of heart's desire.

Exceptions to the edict but justify the rule, it is pointed out. And so few and far are these between, that when one happens across the skyline a million pens bespeak the pluck of age and dangle it before the eyes of men as a shining example of fortitude in its battle against failure past fifty.

Gold was not the ambition of Mrs. Mary McFarlane, 63, who prepared two trousseaus at two ages to marry the same man.

She has just left her home in Kansas City to wed Robert McFarlane of Toronto, Can., a second time, after a separation by divorce from each other of over 25 years.

She was his bride the first time when 18. Four children were born of the marriage which made departure most difficult.

"It was a struggle with my pride," she says. "No one believed that affection could be rekindled from the dead sparks at my age. But love won out. And love is all I am successfully happy."

Nor was age any handicap to Dr. Lafayette Ringle of Chicago, who

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system, the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited; to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend it, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

bordering close onto 60, saw the fortune he had so laboriously accumulated by a generation of hard work slip out to sea when the jade of destiny wrecked his wholesale surgical supply business and tossed it down like a house of cards.

The blow found Dr. Ringle at a disadvantage and sorely put for a rally because his health was poor and likewise all his reserve capital in a large Michigan fruit adventure had been wiped out in the same fall swoop.

But he did not sit back and repine. Action was his ally. And with a double hitch at his galluses the doctor sallied forth and brought back the argosy which had seemingly disappeared in the night.

Today, at 73, he is again master of the situation, and merely smiles at the trick fate played on him. His philosophy summed up is this: "Opportunity does not knock only once. It is constantly knocking. And no door should be barred to it merely because there is a silly superstition about the dead level age past which none may tread to ambition."

As for "Borax" Smith, creator of the huge borax industry in the United States and one of the most typical and picturesque characters of the west, his story is familiar to most everyone.

When 65, Smith saw a fortune estimated at $20,000,000—the result of 40 years' work—turn to dross in his hands. The reverse left him destitute and for a time it was said that he had "disappeared."

During 1921, however, he staged as spectacular a comeback as his entrance into high finance had been in 1870. And today he is regarded king of the borax industry once more, and owns pretentious homes on either end of the continent purely because he had grit and dared to give the lie to the popular belief that for failures after 50 there is no hope.

Miss Helen Ornstein of Appleton left Chicago Thursday for Ann Arbor, where she will attend the junior prom of the University of Michigan. She also will visit in Detroit.

BEAUTIFUL NEW CITY RISES ON RUINS OF YOKOHAMA

Out of the ruin and devastation of the September earthquake is arising a new Yokohama. Clusters of tiny Japanese bungalows and temporary office buildings are springing up on the sites where buildings were razed, and material is being rushed in from all parts of the world for a comprehensive program of business house building. All of the houses shown in these pictures except some charred hulls have been built since the disaster. This picture was taken for the Admiral Oriental Line, American shipping company, whose holdings were also wiped out in the disaster.

Do you swim? Do you engage in athletic dancing? If you don't—do! Miss Gary Ford, pictured here, does both, and she contends these exercises correct both portliness and scrawiness. Miss Ford is the pride of Jacksonville, Fla., and her dancing at Florida State College for Women is attracting wide attention. And why shouldn't it?

Supplying the country's demand for fish isn't exactly a bed of roses. The good ship Margaret Hathaway heaved into New York port looking like the picture above. Yep—ice from tip to tip. Brrii.

Although a career in the arts and sciences looms for many a co-ed at the University of Washington, in Seattle, most of them still believe that "woman's place is in the home." And so they are taking advantage of the fact that it is leap year to spur the matrimonial tendencies of hesitant males. Miss Lois Howard is here shown pointing out a leap year bulletin posted on one of the university buildings.

Former Senator J. (Ham) Lewis was in Washington to attend the Democratic National Committee meeting. J. Ham is not in the limelight so much any more, but he's just as popular as ever.

Oh, isn't it just too nice for anything? The mercury was way, way down—but Mrs. Gwyer Yates of Omaha doesn't give a rap. It snowed hard and it's the first snow she's ever seen. For down in New Orleans, from where she hails, the white flakes just aren't. Mrs. Yates has given over $2,000,000 to southern charities.

The king and queen of England, with all the pomp of ancient times, ride in their golden coach to Parliament. Never before in England's history has a monarch gone to speak before a Parliament the dominant figure in which is a Laborite. This is a splendid close-up of Queen Mary in her queenly robes and crown. Note the rich ornamentation on front of coach.

Madeline Travers, motion picture actress, received the high award of $72,180 from a jury in New York City from Herbert Smith, wealthy coal mine owner. She says Smith made a verbal contract with her to "star" his movies—but never did—and that she was induced to give up a position with a big film company.

SAFETY CLUB SURE IF AUTOIST SHOWS HE IS INTERESTED

C. of C. Committee Has Plans
Ready For Possible Motorist Massmeeting

Extent to which automobile owners are interested in a safe drivers' club will determine whether Appleton will have one, the community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce decided at a meeting Wednesday evening. A plan has been worked out by the committee and an organization meeting will be called if enough motorists pledge their cooperation.

Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber, presented a tentative set of rules and bylaws which he and Ambrose Wilton as a special committee had prepared at the request of the community welfare group. They embody the uniform, safety and camp cleanliness principles of national organizations and are adapted to local conditions, following largely those used by clubs in Oshkosh and Fond du Lac. Further study will be given the creed, pledge and bylaws and they will be adopted at a massmeeting if one is called.

CHARGE NOMINAL DUES
Dues of one dollar a year will be asked of each member. All of the money will be used to pay for club nameplates for cars, an emblem of the National Motorists League for Courtyards Preservation, and for printing and incidental expenses. None of the money will be used for membership in state or national organizations.

It is believed that at least 700 motorists could be enrolled here, because of the demand for safer driving, prevention of accidents and uniformity of highway customs. The first big task of the club would be to conduct an accident prevention campaign, using considerable publicity, window displays in the stores, safety slogans and other means of sharpening consciences of drivers so they will be more careful.

Each autoist who believes in organizing the club is asked to telephone, write or call at the chamber of commerce and as soon as enough support has been obtained the general meeting will be called.

Weyenberg had been working at the camp since last Christmas. No details as to the nature of the accident accompanied the message received by his parents. The body was taken to an undertaking establishment at Shawano.

SUGAR SACKS FALL ON WAREHOUSE MAN

Caught under three or four sacks of sugar which slid down from a pile at the S. C. Shannon Co. warehouse late Wednesday afternoon, Fred Stoffel, 580 Walnut-st., was injured quite severely and taken to the hospital. The exact extent of his injuries have not been determined. A sack slid off the top of the pile and struck Stoffel, knocking him down. Two or three more sacks slid from the pile and fell on his chest.

Postponed Meeting
The county committee on mothers' pensions, blind and poor was to have met in the courthouse Wednesday. But owing to the poor roads, the meeting has been postponed until next Monday afternoon. Allowance of various claims will be considered. They are actually three committees, but the same supervisors constitute each committee.

One Romance Of Long Ago Keeps Woman Eternally Young At Age Of 113 Years

New York—I went to keep a rendezvous with death—a living death. But instead I found youth—eternal youth that has kept a 113-year-old woman sparkling with life.

Yet, now that it is over, I wonder whether they aren't both the same! For Mrs. Pescha Malke Urdang, oldest inmate of the Home for the Daughters of Israel, and one of the oldest persons living, has forgotten how to remember.

Memories of the past are gone—all but one. But that is the memory of her romance, her one romance, her very life itself.

DIED LONG YEARS AGO
She has grown gaunt, drawn and wrinkled in the many years that have lapsed since her husband died. Sixty years they say at the home, but no one knows for certain.

Her children's children have been grand-children. Her progeny have been scattered all over the earth.

But for her there remains only the one memory—and the eternal wait.

HUGS PRAYERBOOK
She was sitting on her bed in a corner of the home when we came to see her. She was busy praying, hurrying to stave off the spectre of death, always at her elbow.

Around her were other old women some of them well past 100. Uncommunicative at first, she began speaking only when the chatter of the others disturbed her.

"These children," she said. "How they tire me! They haven't yet learned what living is."

It was hard making her tear herself away from her prayer book. She pores over it all day long. Yet she doesn't need the book. She knows it by heart.

"It's my life now," she said after a long wait. "My whole life. But it was different when he was alive."

Tears ran down her face. There were no lashes to stay them.

Silence.

ARDENT LOVE

"How he loved me!" she broke in. "What knows the world of such love today? How can it. He is gone."

Another pause. More tears. Her instinctively shut her back to her prayer book, tattered with years of thumbing. Some of its pages are torn, most of its passages are blurred. But the old woman reads on. Several of her children are still alive.

Pair Of Shoes Lasts Mailman Whole Season

How many pairs of shoes does a mail carrier wear out? That question is brought to mind in one scene of "The Mailman," the motion picture which will be shown the first week in March.

There is one Appleton mail carrier who says he has worn out 25 pairs of shoes during the 21 years he has tramped the streets of this city delivering mail. He has worn out a good many more pairs of rubbers.

George Koehler, who carries mail in the business district, is therefore not in the least surprised at the incident in one of the scenes of the picture in which Ralph Lewis in opening a closet door is deluged by a glacier of old shoes.

Some persons may think that a little overdrawn, but Mr. Koehler, who has not the longest route in the city by far, says that one season is about as long as any pair will last him, even with the repairs and rubbers. In the winter he wears out a pair of rubbers every month. In the summer a pair of shoes lasts about two months when it is in need of repair. Covering a distance of 10 to 11 miles a day, 25 pairs of shoes have gone a total distance of about 75,000 miles.

Carriers in the residence districts have longer routes, require heavier shoes and probably wear them out faster than he. Mr. Koehler believes.

Many intimate scenes of mail carriers' life are depicted in the motion picture, "The Mail Man" which will be shown in Appleton and proceeds of which will go toward the benefit fund of the Appleton Postoffice association.

FLAG SOUGHT 60 YEARS FOUND IN SUPERIOR STORE

Superior—A 60-year search for the battle-scarred flag of the Twenty-fifth South Carolina Confederate regiment, captured from the southern forces Aug. 21, 1864, has ended in Superior. The tattered old banner was found in a store, where it had been pawned several years ago.

Maj. A. S. Eaton, Wisconsin department commander of the G. A. R., after reading a story about the search for the flag, found it.

The flag, six by four feet, has two red stripes, bordering a center stripe of white on which are 11 stars representing the southern confederate states, while on blue background the number "25" and the words "Secessionville, Entaw Regiment," are blazoned. The flag has been sent to the survivors of the famous southern regiment.

RURAL CARRIERS COVER THREE FOURTHS OF ROUTE

Rural rail carriers covered about three quarters of their routes Wednesday. Roads were in slightly better shape than they were during the snow storm Monday and Tuesday. Often the carriers had to drive out of their way on other roads and over fields.

Snow drifts were higher than they have seen at any other time. Near the county asylum is a snow drift that is believed to be 20 feet high.

Miss Josephine Treiber, who is employed at A. Galpin's Sons hardware store, is seriously ill at her home, 1285 Lawrence-st. She has been ill since Sunday.

AUGUST DOBLER IS HURT IN RUNAWAY

August Dobler, an elderly man employed by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Co. was injured about 2 o'clock Wednesday by a runaway horse while he was shoveling snow at the corner of Second and Mason-sts. He suffered bruises on his head and leg and a blow on the shoulder.

The horse was driven by Fred Schabo. It became frightened and took to flight too suddenly for Mr. Dobler to get out of its path. He was knocked down and two of the runners passed over his body. He is able to be about but was not at work Thursday.

OFFICES HAVE BUSY DAY MAKING UP FOR SLOWNESS OF MAILS

Anybody having occasion to call on business executives Thursday was sure to find them at their desks. Every office also bore the hum of extra activity.

The jump of trains during the snowstorm was the reason for when the mails of three days arrived Wednesday, the offices were swamped with letters and businessmen were obliged to work diligently to catch up.

Once that do a heavy mail business, felt the effects of the storm keenly, because it will take them several days to catch up on the correspondence.

C. OF C. IS READY TO JOIN WOMEN IN PLAYGROUND PLEA

Community Welfare Committee
Will Ask Board To Support Movement

Cooperation with Appleton Women's club in obtaining supervised playgrounds during the summer months in Appleton is recommended to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce by the community welfare committee of the chamber in accordance with a vote at its meeting Wednesday evening. The decision followed a discussion of proposals, submitted by the women's club and Miss Josephine Randall, field secretary of the middlewestern district of the American Playgrounds and Recreation association.

The women's club plan is to try the supervised playgrounds idea for three months next summer in one of the parks, and thus ascertain the worth of a citywide movement along this line. The expense of conducting the test would be about $1,000, according to estimates laid before the committee. This budget would include $450 for three months' service of one man, $300 for a woman to assist afternoons and evenings, and $150 from a woman to assist in the morning. The remaining $100 would be used for supplies and incidentals. Supervised play would be in progress from 9 o'clock in the morning until 3:30 in the evening, and would continue for three months.

Appleton's need for supervised playgrounds was presented to Louis Bonini, chairman of the committee, by the women's club and Miss Randall with the request that the chamber be asked to cooperate. They pointed to the playgrounds in many states and in Wisconsin cities and declared Appleton faced this same need. They believe a tryout will prove that proper play is an economy instead of an expense. No suggestion has been offered concerning the source of the $1,000 which will be required.

ATTIC FIRE THREATENS HOME IN FIFTH WARD

A fire which started in the attic of the home of C. C. Carpenter, 1044 Richmond-st., at 10 o'clock Thursday morning occasioned a call for the fire department. The blaze started from a pile of rags, but caused no great damage. It was extinguished by means of chemicals.

A chimney fire at the Third ward school at 6:30 Wednesday evening alarmed a number of the nearby residents. Sparks were flying profusely from the big chimney and appeared to endanger the roofs of other buildings. No actual damage resulted.

U. OF W. GRADS WILL CELEBRATE FOUNDER'S DAY

Banquet On Feb. 15-Will Commemorate Opening Of State School

Graduates of the University of Wisconsin in Appleton and Neenah will meet for a program and dinner in Hotel Appleton on Feb. 15 to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the great state school. Mrs. J. T. Ray, Appleton, assisted by Van Pinkerton, Neenah, and Mrs. Earl Miller, Appleton, is in charge of arrangements for the Appleton meeting. In addition to the university graduates in this part of the valley, probably more than 100, parents of students now attending the university will be guests at the dinner. A speaker probably will be sent here from the university.

E. A. Burge, president of the university, has sent a letter urging former students to celebrate the anniversary of founding the school. His letter follows:

"The fifth day of February, 1924, will mark the completion, by the university, of seventy-five years' actual operation. This day, therefore, memorable in our minds, is worthy to be observed and celebrated as a day of jubilee.

"I recommend and request that the students and former students, and the friends of the university, generally, recognize this as a 'seasonable time for expressions of attachment and loyalty to Alma Mater. And I especially request that, wherever circumstances render such action suitable and convenient, they will unite among themselves, to commemorate the achievements, and to make illustrious this, the seventy-fifth birthday of the University of Wisconsin.

Peace Plan Ballot

FOLLOWING is the ballot through which citizens are asked to express their approval or disapproval of the Bok peace plan. Stripped of details, it seems to propose that America enter the world court and cooperate with the League of Nations as a non-member nation. Its representatives for that purpose lacking authority to bind the United States without act of congress. The Appleton Post-Crescent invites, in addition to the balloting, the fullest discussion of the plan as a good means of stimulating interest in relation to the world's greatest problem. What do YOU say?

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

1. That the United States shall immediately enter the Permanent Court of International Justice, under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.
2. That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present cooperation with the League and participate in the work of the League as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which
3. Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Article X and XVI
4. Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.
5. Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations except by Act of Congress.
6. Propose that membership in the League should be opened to all nations.
7. Provide for the continuing development of international law.

A 30 minute ride will win you to the new Essex.

And you will join the legions who know this new Six, that is built by Hudson, in saying it provides ideal transportation.

It continues the well known Essex qualities of economy and reliability. It adds a smoothness of performance which heretofore was exclusively Hudson's. Both cars are alike in all details that count for long satisfactory service at small operating cost.

Steering is like guiding a bicycle. Gears shift easily. Care of the car calls for little more than keeping it lubricated. For the most part that is done with an oil can.

Fuel economy is impressive. Oil consumption is unusually low and tire mileage surprisingly high.

The New Essex is backed by a service policy that keeps maintenance down to the minimum.

COUNCIL WOULD CONDEMN LAND TO EXTEND UNION-ST

Street Committee Will Make Attempt To Purchase Property

Condemnation proceedings to acquire land with which to open Union-st from Second-ave to Randall-st were suggested at the meeting of the common council in the city hall Wednesday evening when residents of the far north side presented a petition to open that thoroughfare. Aldermen apparently were agreed that the street should be opened but are deterred because the persons who own the necessary property are asking a price that is considered exorbitant. The street and bridge committee has been working on the project and the matter was again referred to this board with the request that it make another attempt to secure the right-of-way at a reasonable price and report at the next council meeting.

WOULD AVOID JOG

A number of residents who would be benefited by opening the street attended the council meeting and two of their number advanced reasons why the street should be made passable. It was learned that the city has an option on a lot running from Second-ave to Randall-st, immediately west of the property required for running the street straight through, but if the extension of Union-st by way of this lot it will create a jog of about 60 feet at Second-ave and at Randall-st. To this the property owners in that part of the city object.

Randall-st residents also have petitioned the council that the city acquire the south 30 feet of Randall-st so that the street will be of uniform width throughout its length.

ACCEPT RESIGNATIONS

A committee consisting of Aldermen Hansen, Lippert, Richard, McGowan, Jassman and Beske was appointed by Mayor Henry Reuter to nominate candidates for appointment as members of the water commission and of the city planning appeal board to succeed August H. Meyer and Conrad Verbrick whose resignations were accepted.

The committee probably will report at the next meeting.

The council was notified that Mrs. Minnie Olinsey, who fell on a slippery sidewalk near the Y. M. C. A. on Jan. 15, fracturing her hip, expects the city to pay the expense caused by this accident. Her bills total $103. At the same time the council rejected the claim of Miss Catherine Derby for $1,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been suffered in a fall.

GRANT TEACHER

A request that another teacher of deaf be engaged to furnish instruction for deaf children who cannot be taken care of by the present instructor of deaf was granted by the council. The request came from Miss Carrie E. Morgan, city superintendent of schools. Petitions for sewers and watermain repairs of Parkway addition were referred to committees as was also a petition for 4 1/2 blocks of watermain on Freedom-rd, north of Second-ave.

IN ANOTHER SUIT

The suggestion of the police and fire commission that the council purchase ten rubber coats and ten pairs of woolen mittens to be used by firemen in cases of emergency went to the fire and water committee. The aldermen were notified that the city has been served with summons and complaint in the action started by the Forester Home association to recover taxes paid under protest in 1922. Salaries of city officials will be determined at a meeting of the aldermen sitting as a committee of the whole next Monday evening, with Alderman James A. Wood as chairman. The council recessed until after that meeting.

SWISS LAW RULES LEAGUE MEMBERS

Representatives Of Foreign Nations Must Respect Traffic Regulations

By Associated Press

Geneva—In no European town are the regulations on circulation, both for roads and sidewalks more strictly enforced than in Geneva. M. Hanotiaux, Franco's representative for the League of Nations and Quinones de Leon, Spain's representative, had this fact brought to their attention the other day. They were so deep in a discussion that when crossing a street, they came to a halt and continued their argument in the middle of the road, heedless of the desperate gesticulations by the nearest policeman.

"Here, you two, do you suppose that sidewalks were made for dogs only?" asked the officer as he came up to them.

Both men came back to reality with a shock.

"Do you know whom you are addressing?"

The officer laid a hand on each.

"I should worry, the sidewalk for yours."

"But, Monsieur, I represent France on the Council of the League of Nations."

"And I, Spain, Monsieur."

A broad grin passed over the policeman's face as he replied:

"You can represent what you like, but I, I represent the law."

The two delegates stepped on to the

Here Is A Man Who Kicks Against Cleaning Streets

A dark cloud of litigation hovers over the city of Appleton. Amid a chorus of "take notices" and a barrage of "in behalf of's" Peter Steenis, who says he operates a transfer line for himself and is talking for all the other men who operate transfer lines, turned the city council at its meeting Wednesday evening that it persist in cleaning the streets it will be served with injunctions and be made to pay a lot of damages. Peter had a load on his chest which he got rid of in a formal communication to the council.

Peter's pet peeve, it seems from the communication, is that the city street department, pursuing a policy of utmost fallacy, had cleaned certain streets in the heart of Appleton so thoroughly of snow that his horses were unable to plow a loaded sleigh, and on the other hand, streets in other parts of the city, he said, were left in such condition that they could not be traveled by wagon or automobile. Peter gave the inference that wagons and automobiles are at right in the heart of the city but are unable to use sleighs in the "side streets." This condition, Peter said, is causing him considerable monetary loss and he intends to hold the city liable for the business and money he says he is losing.

"IT'S ALL BUNK"

Peter got a lot out of R. M. Connelley, city engineer and superintendent of streets. "It's all bunk" is the way Mr. Connelley characterized it. He declared Peter was all wrong when he said the street department made sleighing impossible in the downtown district. It was Old Sol who did that, and the engineer said he didn't believe the city should be held responsible because the sun was shining. He also vigorously denied that side streets are passable only for sleighs.

Alderman Wood wanted to know how long Peter wanted the city to furnish snow for him but careful examination of his communication failed to reveal that. Peter's letter finally was laid on the table and probably will find its way to the wastebasket.

Seeks City Appointment

Miss Florence Whipple has made application to the city council for appointment as visiting nurse. Two applications have been received, and are being considered by the finance committee of the council.

A. K. Ellis, Jr., who is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital following an operation for appendicitis, is gaining nicely. He expects to return to his home at 833 Prospect-st this week.

One Reason for Nervous Disorders

YOUR doctor can tell you that Nervous disorders are very common among Americans. One reason for this is found in the fact that they are great coffee drinkers.

Coffee contains caffeine, a drug, prescribed by doctors as an emergency stimulant for the heart and nervous system. It has a tendency to increase blood pressure, develop heart irregularities and cause digestive disturbances.

If you feel that coffee is not good for you, serve Postum as your meal-time drink.

Postum is a pure cereal beverage that refreshes and satisfies. It is absolutely free from caffeine or any other irritating drug.

Try a cup of Postum with your dinner or supper tonight. Postum is sold everywhere.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

Postum is sold everywhere.

OPEN ROAD TO ASYLUM AND TO SANATORIUM

The county highway department was busy Tuesday opening the asylum road and Wednesday devoted its attention to Riverview sanatorium road which was opened by Wednesday night. In some places the drifts were from eight to twelve feet high.

home as companion to Mrs. Weston. Miss Hampton enacts this role with power and delicacy. Her work, in short is superb.

Robert T. Haines, as John Weston, gives a fine performance. His change in thoughts and outlook upon life is noteworthy portrayed. He achieves that remarkable height of arousing sympathy in the minds of his audience, even when they know he is doing wrong.

Others in the cast include Florence Short, Walter Petri, Peggy Shaw, Charles Wellesley, Mary Thurman, Claude Brooke, Pierre Gendron, Roland Bottomley, Marie Shotwell and Bunny Grauer.

Inasmuch as the story has an ending that is totally unexpected, therefore putting it in a class of a mystery drama, it shall not be revealed here. It would be too bad to spoil the pleasure you will derive from seeing this remarkable production. Don't miss it.

DARING FEATS ARE SHOWN IN PICTURE

The entire story of "The Sheikh's Wife," which will be shown at The New Bijou Theatre on Friday and Saturday is told with true artistic feeling. There is no villain in the hackneyed sense of the word. The psychology of the sheik who loves his wife with an ancient fierceness and who tries to dominate her in true Oriental fashion, is sympathetically set forth. The character of the romantic and high-spirited girl is also skillfully etched.

Many of the scenes are spectacular in the extreme. The dashing maneuvering of the native cavalry is most colorful. There are interesting scenes in the luxurious interiors of the tent, the views showing the Arab administration of justice and the heroine's rendezvous amid the ruins of an ancient temple. The light between the Spahis and the tribesmen reflect incomparable action and beauty.

"The Sheikh's Wife" has already scored an immense success on the continent. In France it was acclaimed a truly great picture, and in England it is now commanding wide attention. It is predicted that its success in the United States will be unparalleled.

HOPE HAMPTON SCORES IN "DOES IT PAY?"

The initial showing of the William Fox offering, "Does It Pay?" now running at the Elito theatre, produced a pleasant surprise. Here's a picture that is different. It has a splendid cast, featuring Hope Hampton, supported by a number of players of well known ability. It is a society drama dealing with a phase of life that engrosses in its vivid depiction as directed by Charles Horn.

Hope Hampton is seen in the role of a "vamp." She isn't the coquettish ingenue, who is sought after by the hero in this picture, she's a keen minded girl, who, with her mother's advice wins into the home of the Westons. With the purpose to win John Weston for herself regardless that it means severing his home ties in order to marry her, she enters the

For 72 years the name Studebaker has stood for quality and class.

Studebaker equipages, in the carriage days, held premier place. The White House owned them in the days of Grant and Harrison.

Now we make motor cars only. But the Studebaker name, in this modern field, simply had to maintain its prestige.

We had the money, we had the incentive — we who now control. And our one ambition has been to maintain the Studebaker place.

Studebaker assets are $90,000,000. We have $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment.

Not old plants re-adapted. We have spent $32,000,000 in new plants in five years. We have equipped them with 12,500 up-to-date machines.

Over $8,000,000 was spent on drop forge plants alone. Another $10,000,000 on body plants, to maintain our prestige in coach building.

We believe that no other plant in the country is so well equipped to

Few Flags At Half-Mast To Honor Wilson

Woodrow Wilson, former president of the United States, went to his grave Wednesday afternoon with scant tribute from Appleton. There was but little outward recognition of the passing of a great American. Less than a half-dozen flags floated at half-staff during the funeral.

Flags were at half-staff on the federal building, the city hall, Post building, the Pettibone-Peabody store and perhaps one or two other places. This apparent neglect to honor the memory of the war president elicited considerable comment—much of it unfavorable.

A Story of Success

How Studebaker Cars became leaders

145,000 people last year paid $200,000,000 for them

THE most talked-about cars among fine cars are the Studebaker Sixes—at $975 and up. Sales have almost trebled in the past three years. The demand for these cars, growing by leaps and bounds, has been Motordom's chief sensation.

Over $200,000,000 was last year spent for Studebaker models.

Now we wish to explain, to all who are interested, the reasons for that success.

Learn why 145,162 bought Studebakers in 1923

Studebakers hold the top place in the fine car field today.

In 1919, the public paid over $80,000,000 for 39,356 Studebaker cars.

In 1920, the public paid over $100,000,000 for 51,474 Studebaker cars, an increase of 31% over 1919.

In 1921, the public paid over $120,000,000 for 66,643 Studebaker cars, an increase of 29% over 1920.

In 1922, the public paid over $155,000,000 for 110,269 Studebaker cars, an increase of 66% over 1921.

In 1923, the public paid over $201,000,000 for 145,162 Studebaker cars, an increase of 32% over 1922.

In 1924, business has opened with Studebaker as never before.

Learn why all these buyers preferred Studebakers.

Our factories employ 1,200 inspectors, to make 30,000 inspections on all Studebakers cars. Few flaws, few mistakes can escape them. That, we believe, is the finest organization ever devoted to motor car building.

MAKING LAYETTES, PRACTICE FOR GIRLS

Sewing Class Girls Preparing Outfits For Babies In Needy Families

Three complete layettes are being made by the sewing classes of Appleton high school as a part of the practical work which is given to the girls in this department. Each baby outfit is made within a certain budget, thus giving the students an opportunity of planning their purchases and expenditures to come within a specified amount.

Money for the materials for layettes is being furnished by the welfare committee which handles the charity funds from the senior auction. The same committee will have charge of giving the layettes to needy families.

The sewing classes have been divided into three groups, one representing a family in poor circumstances, another in very moderate circumstances and the third in comfortable circumstances. The layettes are planned accordingly. The group

ANNOUNCE DATE FOR YOUNG PEOPLES MEETING

Notifications has been received by the Rev. E. W. Wright that the Presbyterian young people's session at Green Lake this year will be from July 14 to July 20. These sessions are for the purpose of studying phases of religious education and are open to young people of 15 years and up. Older persons, however, are desired. Each church will send delegates to the conference during the week devoted to its denomination. The Congregational session comes the week before the Presbyterian session.

which represents the family in poorest financial conditions is having some problems in making over clothes for the baby. Many of the clothes of the baby which the high school girls took care of a few years ago, are being cut over and remade by the students.

None of the ready-made things such as woolen shirts and stockings are being included in the outfits. By means of letters to various companies which specialize in baby clothes, the girls have been able to find the cost of these things. They have been able to plan layettes to cost as much as their budgets will allow and know what sort of things are being offered by these companies and at what price.

Open cars have real leather upholstery. They cost $25 more per car than imitation leather.

Our closed cars have Chase Mohair upholstery. This is made from the soft fleece of Angora goats. And a Sedan requires from 15 to 18 yards.

Velour for this upholstery would save us up to $100 per car.

Note the finish of every detail. Mark the infinite care. They add 25% to labor cost on luxurious closed bodies.

Note the completeness of our larger closed cars. The nickel-plated bumpers, the extra disc wheels and cord tires, the steel trunk, the courtesy light, etc. Think what they would cost you, bought as extras.

Thus we have made the Studebaker the leader of quality cars. We have built a demand exceeding 145,000 cars per year.

Learn the results of these efforts, in fairness to yourself. Don't buy a car at $1,000 or over without knowing what we offer.

Compare the parts and details. Mark the advantages we offer — scores on scores. Our experience is that 95% of those who do that buy a Studebaker car.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT.

CONTINUED

Almost as an inspiration, when I saw how terribly Mr. Cochran felt at my father's illness, I told him that I had come to him to find out where I could obtain some money on my pearls.

"Do you want to borrow money my dear," he asked. "If you do, of course I will lend it to you."

"No, I do not, dear Mr. Cochran, but you know at the time of my marriage I was given a very wonderful string of pearls."

"I didn't know it, child."

"Well, of course, if dad were well I would ask him for the money, but I honestly Mr. Cochran, I think it is foolish for a woman in moderate circumstances as those of Jack's and mine, to wear so much money about her neck."

"With this I took my pearls out and held them up to him."

"They are very beautiful, my dear, but I wouldn't know whether they are real or false," he said.

"That's just it, I could wear the false ones and be just as satisfied as I am with these. You see, Mr. Cochran, the expense of my illness have been very great and Jack has just lost a large sum of money through a friend. I don't want to ask him for any money because he needs every cent to make good his friend's defalcation."

"Consequently I thought that I could sell two or three of these jewels and still have plenty to wear while helping Jack a little."

"But I would give you the money, Leslie," said Mr. Cochran. "Why do you insist upon selling pretty baubles?"

"I wouldn't feel right to borrow the money of you, Mr. Cochran. I would much rather sell them."

"Well, I will do it if you wish me to, although I think you are rather foolish. Did your father give you this string of pearls?"

"No."

"I thought he didn't. I didn't remember them among the wedding presents."

"I was wearing them at my wedding, perhaps you will remember."

"No dear, I was only looking at your own sweet face."

"I didn't think your mother would make you such an expensive present," he said musingly.

"She didn't," I answered, and then was very sorry I spoke as I saw the glance Mr. Cochran gave me.

Then without thinking I told a great big lie. "Karl Whitney gave them to me," I said.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Twins Find Mister Bob-Cat

Mister Bob-Cat liked the dark. His eyes worked better. But he also liked the sun. It felt so good and warm on his back.

So, as he couldn't have both at once, he took turns hunting and sunning himself, and just now he was having his sun-bath on a narrow ledge of rock in a woolly wild place.

For Little Land, his dears, is not all cotton-fields and tobacco fields and sugar fields and peanut patches and orange groves. It has some very wild places. And it was in one of the wildest places that Mister Bob-Cat was stretched out in the sun.

That's where the twins found him. Their tiny little shoes had guided them there because the Fairy Queen would be sure to ask about her mountain folk.

Mister Bob-Cat was as sound asleep as Rip Van Winkle, so the Twins did not bother to wake him up. They were about to turn away when they heard voices whispering. Tiptoeing very softly toward the spot where the voices came from, they beheld a strange sight.

There was Paddy-foot Rabbit and Drummer Partridge and Hooty Owl, all three with their noses together like foreign ambassadors.

"Yes, sir, it's all fixed up!" Paddy-foot whispered excitedly, wiggling his long ears. "I just been to see Mister Otter and he promised. He says he'll do everything we asked him to and he'll be there at exactly three minutes past sunset. Now come along, you two birds and I'll show you the way."

You may be sure that by this time the Twins were hurrying with curiosity.

But they stayed round, and at sunset, Mister Bob-Cat woke up and shook himself and stretched.

"Supper-time!" he remarked with a yawn. "Guess I'll climb a tree and see if I can find an owl or a nice fat partridge. Goodness! There's Paddy-foot Rabbit right over there now. I might get him."

And away he leaped.

But Paddy-foot ran right under a sycamore-tree and disappeared.

"Shucks!" said Mister Bob-Cat. "Suddenly I find I've overheard a deep voice want 'Hooty Hooty!'"

"Well I declare!" grumbled Mister Bob-Cat, licking his whiskers. "I'm certainly lucky." And he dug his

Tattoo Skin For Beauty That Lasts

Cupid Bow Lips, Pink Cheeks And Butterflies Adorn Society Women

Chicago—Beauty, instead of being painted on daily, is being indelibly tattooed on the faces of society.

Cupid bow lips and pink cheeks are becoming the products of the tattooer's needle rather than the debutante's compact.

For tattooing among society is "the thing" nowadays. It is youth's endeavor to baffle oncoming age.

Authority for this innovation is Dr. Henry J. Schireson, surgeon who straightened Fannie Brice's nose and who specializes in cosmetics.

"No more rouge and lipstick for the debutante," says he. "Down to old age her cheeks will have the flush of beauty."

Modern society tattooing runs the gamut from life-like inconspicuous colorings on cheeks and lips to black birthmark patches on the face and bizarre butterflies on arms, necks and shoulders.

Butterflies are the style at present. Next year perhaps there will be a demand for snakes or cupids. The marks are as permanent as the cruder figures on sailors' arms, notwithstanding their delicate tracery and beautiful coloring. The girl so adorned must keep her design, whether in the sailors, the Polynesian native or the civilized woman."

Household Suggestions

SILVERED GLASS

Glass with a silver inlay or deposit should be rubbed after washing with a chamomile skin dipped in whitening.

WOOD ASHES

Wood ashes are excellent for cleaning and deodorizing iron and tin utensils.

WOODEN BOWLS

Soak your wooden bowls in which fat meats and vegetables have been chopped in hot soda water, using a teaspoon of soda to a quart of water, to keep them fresh and free from odors.

WOODENWARE

Woodenware absorbs odors and fats. Hence, articles made of it should be used carefully and cleaned often.

Preserve Looks Of Your Jewels By Good Care

Certain care must be bestowed on jewels and trinkets if they are to look their best. Jewels that are dirty lose some of their attractiveness. Cleanliness heightens the beauty of gems and, moreover, preserves that beauty.

Pearls should be polished with a chamois but never in water. They should be worn often, for contact with the flesh is their preservative. Diamonds are frequently kept in jewelers' sawdust, and are dried there after being brushed with compounds. They may be rinsed in cologne water, and it helps their brilliance to be shaken in a bag of bran. A piece of clean white blotting paper may be used as a dryer if the sawdust or bran is not available.

Amber is rubbed with pulverized chalk slightly moistened with water. The beads or other ornaments are then laid upon a flannel cloth, rubbed with olive oil, and lastly, a dry woolen cloth, until the polish returns.

The opal is rubbed with mastic slightly moistened, then polished with powdered chalk, followed by a washing in water and a dry rub.

Filigree silver and chased silver or gold ornaments may be cleaned with a little ammonia in the water. Absorb the moisture in jeweler's sawdust, and wash in warm water. The ornaments wrapped in paper or cotton, for those pieces tarnish quickly, especially where gas is used. Polish with chamois or a small piece of carpet with a high pile. Discolored gold ornaments can be boiled in a thick soapuds and then polished with a brush and powdered chalk or mag-

Hand-Made Dress

Children's dresses of fine dainty materials are much prettier when made by hand. The seams are short and easy to sew.

Fine needles and thread should be used—for batiste and handkerchief linen a number 10 needle and 150 thread.

In the sketch shown the underarm seams are made first. A French seam is best to use and a half back stitch is the best stitch. This is made with two or three small running stitches and a black stitch.

First sew a narrow seam, wrong sides of the material together with the seam to the right side as shown in figure one. Then trim the edges as close as is practical. Turn the garment to the wrong side and make another line of half backstitching which just encloses the raw edges of the first seam. (Figure two)

A well-made French seam shows no threads on the right side when it is finished.

Give Youngsters Party On Valentine's Day

Valentine Day (Feb. 14) always has a distinct appeal to small people. It affords unusual opportunities for decoration.

Sandwiches, cakes, salads, ice creams and candies can be made heart shaped and the favors can be tiny heart-shaped boxes filled with candy.

A Jack Horner pie in the shape of a huge heart might be made of pink crepe-paper rose petals and rice. The heart could be the dining table. Ribbons should be attached to favors in the "pie," reaching to each plate, and the children should pull at the same time.

The menu should be simple and easily digested but quite gala and partitioned.

Amendment To Prevent Child Labor Is Sought In Women's Campaign

Congress Will Hear Demand For Law That Cannot Be Overthrown

Washington—A national child labor law that cannot be overturned by the U. S. supreme court—

A measure to lift the status of American children above that of children in India, China and Japan—These are the objectives in the newest child labor law drive, which wants to amend the constitution to empower congressional laws prohibiting or limiting labor of persons under 18 years of age.

Hearings begin Feb. 7 before the house judiciary committee. And the Women's Committee for the Children's Amendment is ready to launch a nation-wide campaign to have the form ratified by the people of each state.

WOMEN ORGANIZED
Twenty-two national women's organizations comprise the women's committee. Besides hearings here, they plan committees of women in every congressional district to demand their representatives' support and get their state's ratification of the amendment.

"Our congress has twice enacted child labor laws, only to have them set aside by the supreme court," says Miss Ethel M. Smith of the National Trade Woman's league, one of the committee's spokesmen.

"American women demand that if children cannot be protected against exploitation under the constitution, the constitution must be changed. It would give congress authority to pass a child labor law which the courts could not invalidate."

"Over a million children, from 10 to 16, are now working in American factories, mills, mines and other industries. Nearly 400,000 of these are under 14, government statistics show."

"NO NATIONAL STANDARD"
"Nullifying of two child labor laws leaves America without a national standard. Twelve other countries have at least the 14-year age minimum. Here in America, though, states which permit employment of children so young put us in a class with India, China and Japan."

"American women are determined to remedy this. They now have the vote. They can talk turkey. We believe we will get favorable action at this session, barring a program of deliberate obstruction by the opposition."

Only open and avowed opponents now in sight are the southern textile interests and the anti-suffrage, anti-everything group represented by the so-called "American Constitutional League." If action is blocked in the present session, you may be sure the issue of child labor will be one of the live subjects on which the women of the country will have their say in the congressional and presidential campaign just ahead."

New York—Few writers could make a gumbadora as interesting as Arnold Bennett's Elsie in "Riceyman Steps." Unlike the Bertha in Fannie Hurst's "Lummock," Elsie has no gypsy tumults beating against her breast. If she were to become articulate, she would have no deep emotional or sentimental expressions to utter.

Few writers possess the consummate skill required to project such a wooden-head in an interesting light. And because Bennett has made this creature and her equally obtuse husband living realities, he has turned out one of the finest bits of writing to be found in present-day literature.

Bennett doesn't allow his characters to do much talking. He creates the illusion of their reality in the external details of their lives. Under his hand inanimate things take on animation and wrap themselves about the living characters.

And Bennett seems to have found the locale whence sprang that old song, "Please Go 'Way and Let Me Sleep." It is Sunday morning in a London slum and—

"The adults slept. They embraced sleep passionately, voraciously, voluptuously. Their sole desire in those hours was to find perfect unconsciousness and rest. If they turned over they snatched again with terrible greed at sleep. They wanted it more than love and more than beer. They would have committed crimes for it."

However, such greed for sleep need not have been confined to a London slum. The present writer can mention very readily one cramped little apartment in New York in which the same greed holds sway every Sabbath morn.

Beef Stew For Meal Is Hard To Beat

Housewife Will Find It Pays To Buy Cheaper Cuts If Prepared Right

A good beef stew is so much of a favorite with most of us and so often served that few suggestions for selecting the meat and preparing it are given.

It is real economy to select the lower priced cuts of beef for stew. Such cuts include brisket, neck, round, rump and shank. The stew is improved in flavor if the meat has some bone with it. For those who prefer such cuts the short ribs or brisket are very good. Allow about one-half pound of meat for each serving. Left over meat from steaks, roasts or pot roasts may be added to the fresh meat. Directions for making a stew vary somewhat, depending upon personal taste and the vegetables served with it, but in general the following rules will insure success.

TO MAKE BEEF STEW
Wipe the meat with a damp cloth and cut it into pieces of a size suitable for serving—about two-inch pieces. Melt two tablespoons of fat, pork, bacon, suet or drippings in a stewing kettle. Brown in this one small onion chopped fine. Add the pieces of meat, first lightly dredged in flour, and sear on all sides. Some prefer to brown only half of the meat. One pint of hot water, cover the kettle, reduce the heat to a low flame and allow the stew to simmer for two or three hours or until the meat is tender. If necessary add more water while cooking. Thicken the gravy with a mixture of flour and water. Add vegetables cut into attractive size pieces for serving.

An almost infinite variety and combination of vegetables can be used to add color and attractiveness to the stew. There are those who prefer only the always popular potato; others the onion, the turnip, parsnip, carrot, rutabaga and cabbage. For flavor tomato juice is used in place of part of the liquid. Other seasonings sometimes added include bay leaf, cloves, chopped peppers, chopped parsley, chopped celery or celery salt and tomato catsup.

A proportion of meat and vegetables which always seem to please takes two pounds of beef with some bone and fat, one medium turnip, two carrots, two small onions, one-half pepper chopped, six medium white potatoes. If a dark brown stew is desired the vegetables may be browned in drippings before being cooked with the meat.

RULES FOR MAKING GRAVY
If the liquid on the meat has cooked down, remove the pieces of meat and pieces of vegetables from the kettle. Arrange attractively in a deep platter already warmed. Pour off any excess fat in the kettle, leaving two to three tablespoons of fat. Brown the fat if not already brown enough, add two level tablespoons of flour, stir to a paste and add 2 cups of water or preferably stock. Continue to stir until the gravy is smooth and thickened. If flour was used to dredge the meat when it was first seared, less flour should be added to make the gravy.

Season the gravy with salt and pepper and pour it over the meat and vegetables. Serve at once. If there is liquid left in the kettle, the gravy is best made by thickening with the flour first worked into a paste with cold water, and then stirred into the hot liquid.

ZWICK-AUSTIN BATTLE ASSURED FOR FEB. 14, HERE

Fight Moguls Agree On Weight Forfeits; Await Consent Of State A. C.

Michigan Slugger Treats Chicago Fans To Exciting Exhibition With "Bat" Siki, Singular Senegalese

Elmer Johnston, Appleton fight promoter, announced the battle between Jimmy Austin, Michigan bearcat, and Jack Zwick, Kaukauna sheik, scheduled for Feb. 14, in Armory G is now assured. Battling Nelson, who is handling Austin, has insisted on a big weight forfeit and sent his amount with his contract. This matter caused considerable difficulty, and the fight was hanging fire until Nelson finally agreed to let the forfeit stand in their original amounts. The weights of the principals have been set at 145 pounds for 3 o'clock on the day of the fight.

With the trains back on their regular schedules, Johnston expects the consent of the State commission Thursday, which leaves clear sailing for the card on Feb. 14.

AUSTIN FOUGHT SIKI

According to Chicago sport scribes, the fans of that city saw Jimmy Austin stage an exciting battle with "Bat" Siki, the singular Senegalese. The big Negro opened up on Jimmy with everything he had, backed the Michigan fighter into a neutral corner and tried to hand him an anesthetic. But Jimmy objected and opened up on the colored gent and although he was outwitted by more than 15 pounds, he did not come off much worse and was applauded roundly after the battle.

If Austin can stay with such a noted fighter as Battling Siki, fans are beginning to wonder what will happen to Zwick when the two meet here.

Jimmy is being coached to slug, not to waste his blows, but to try for a K. O. every time he lands. Austin had no trouble in getting to Siki but the Negro has never been considered clever. Zwick is no phenom for cleverness, but he knows enough about the game to cover up when he has to. His chief delight is to stand up to a man willing to fight it out toe to toe.

Concordia's Invasion Ends Two-Week Rest Of Lawrence Cage Teams

Lutheran Collegians Have Best Team In Years; Held Marquette To Close Score In Practice Battle

After a two week's layoff in inter-scholastic sport competition Coach A. C. Denney is pointing his basketballers to a double week end bill in which the Blue clashes with Concordia college here Friday, and on Saturday journeys to Beloit to meet the conference leaders.

The contest with Concordia at Armory G was arranged chiefly to give the freshmen who became eligible on Feb. 1 a chance to shake their stuff out in as far as possible. The Blue played a game with Concordia during the week, while Ashman has been drilled for center, and Briesse and Grove are ready to go in as guards. As members of the Frosh five which won the championship of Lawrence, these men have made an enviable record. Mills, Heideman, Ashman and Briesse are local men who last year starred with the local high school team, and in that capacity won considerable fame among Appleton fans. This will be their first opportunity to try for permanent places on the varsity five, and they may be depended upon to fight for the positions they covet.

BEST TEAM IN YEARS

Concordia is a Lutheran college for men. Its basketball team this year is said to be a considerable improvement on previous seasons, and records of its games seem to bear out that report. Marquette had a hard time defeating the Lutherans in a practice battle early in the season. During the early part of the game, Concordia led, and it was only after three periods of the hardest kind of fighting that the Hilltoppers were able to squeeze past by a very narrow margin.

Most of the Lutherans are veterans of last year's team. They showed their ability in a contest with Washington A. C. quintet in the curtain raiser to the Badger Celtic contest at Madison last week when they trounced the Washington five, 25 to 15, after the latter had taken a lead of 6 in 8 in the first half. Their defense in the final period was airtight, and the Lawrence-men will have to fight hard to pass it.

NEW KIMBERLY QUINTET SEEKS CAGE OPPONENTS

Kimberly basketballers have organized a team of amateurs which calls itself the Little Five quintet. C. A. Stammer of Appleton has been elected business manager, and issues a challenge to any amateur team in this county. He may be reached at 525 Hancock st., Appleton.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Beloit, with two victories, and Carleton with one, maintained their tie for first honors in the midwest conference last week. Both quintets now have four conference wins to their credit.

Feature games of this week will be the Beloit-Lawrence game at Beloit and the Cornell-Hamline game at St. Paul, both on Saturday. The only other conference game scheduled is a return contest at Beloit on Friday between the state line collegians and the Mohawks.

Outstanding in last week's games was the 48 to 27 victory of Carleton over Hamline. The Pipers had defeated Ripon and lost by two points to Beloit, and were expected to give the Maple a close run.

Beloit made a short invasion of Iowa, to defeat Cornell and Coe. The Gold is fairly certain to keep their record clean against non-Wisconsin teams, but trouble is anticipated in games with their Badger rivals. Lawrence and Ripon. Beloit has two games yet to play with each school.

Vondrashek of Beloit, with eighteen field goals and a quartet of foul shots, is leading conference scorers. Kerwin of Cornell, with thirteen ringers and seven free throws, and Hartwell of Cornell, with twelve field goals and nine foul tosses, are tied for second honors.

CROWE LOOKS LIKE NEW CHAMP FOR NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame claims another athletic celebrity. This time it's on the basketball court. His name is Crowe. He's a forward. And according to the Irish supporters he is a coming luminary. In the recent game with Michigan Crowe was the big noise, and it was mainly through his sensational work that the South Bend troupe sprung a bit of a surprise by whipping Michigan. Crowe, indeed, will bear watching.

City Officers Promise Help To Put Ice Rinks In Shape For Contests

Street Department Crew Will Remove Snow From Ice So It Can Be Flooded Before Sunday

Assurance was given by the city engineer's department on Wednesday that Jones park rink will be ready for the skating tournament at Jones park next Sunday afternoon if weather conditions will make ice possible. A crew of men will be sent to the rink to remove the snow after which it will be flooded and the ice prepared for the races.

The Appleton hockey team, which has several of its members entered in the races, has postponed its game with Oshkosh, scheduled for next Sunday, so the skaters will have a chance at the gold and silver medals that are offered by the Post-Crescent to prize winners. The hockey team contains a number of the best skaters in the city and in the valley.

There still are a few numbers that have not been called for. Skaters are urged to get these numbers at the office of the Post-Crescent before the races start.

No changes have been made in the program for Sunday afternoon. The races start promptly at 1 o'clock and the program includes 16 events. It is hoped to complete the contests in about two hours.

All that is needed to assure success of the tournament is good weather and good ice and the latter is almost entirely dependent upon the first.

WISCONSIN FIVES HOODOO INDIANA ON CAGE COURTS

Badger Quintet Never Has Been Defeated By Hoosiers Since Meanwell Came

Chicago — Wisconsin's basketball team had a narrow squeak the other night. The close call came in the game with Indiana. A sensational aggregation been defeated by Indiana enabled the Badgers to cop, 28 to 27. For a time prospects looked gloomy for the Cardinals.

Wisconsin, by winning that game, kept intact a record that has stood ever since Dr. Meanwell took charge of court destinies at the Madison institution back in 1912. Never has a Meanwell coached Wisconsin cage aggregation been defeated by Indiana. A record, considering that the Hoosiers are perhaps stronger in basketball than in any other sport.

Wisconsin and Indiana have clashed on the court 12 times since 1912. Many close games have resulted, but the Badgers have thus far always succeeded in coming out on top.

Last season Indiana lobbed the Iowa team of undisputed titular honors by whipping the Hawkeyes in the final bout of the season. But it didn't trip Wisconsin. The Cardinals likewise dropped one game, Purdue being the quintet to turn the trick.

Whether or not Wisconsin holds a hypnotic spell over the Hoosiers is a question. But it appears to be a fact that no matter how strong a team Indiana boasts, it has a happy faculty—for the Badgers—of curling up whenever it faces a Meanwell outfit.

COE QUINTET INVADERS BELOIT AND DUBUQUE

Cedar Rapids—Defeated in its last three starts on the local floor, the Coe basketball quintet will seek a change of luck this weekend by changing floors, with a two game trip to Beloit and Dubuque to be made. The Kohawks will play their second game having defeated Coe, 44 to 17, and Dubuque having lost to Coe, 19 to 11, on the Cedar Rapids court.

New Haven—Yale officially recognized bowling as a minor sport.

Street Department Crew Will Remove Snow From Ice So It Can Be Flooded Before Sunday

Assurance was given by the city engineer's department on Wednesday that Jones park rink will be ready for the skating tournament at Jones park next Sunday afternoon if weather conditions will make ice possible. A crew of men will be sent to the rink to remove the snow after which it will be flooded and the ice prepared for the races.

The Appleton hockey team, which has several of its members entered in the races, has postponed its game with Oshkosh, scheduled for next Sunday, so the skaters will have a chance at the gold and silver medals that are offered by the Post-Crescent to prize winners. The hockey team contains a number of the best skaters in the city and in the valley.

DEMPSEY BELIEVES YOUNG STRIBLING MAY REACH TOP

Jack Dempsey saw Young Stribling, Macon, Ga., school boy, in action in Florida, and commented favorably on the southerner's style. "A little green yet," remarked the champion, "but he seems to have the stuff and in time may come to the top."

Millions Use It—Few Cents Buys Jar at Drugstore

Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. "Hair Groom" is greaseless, also helps grow thick, heavy lustrous hair. Beware of greasy, harmful imitations.

COE QUINTET INVADERS BELOIT AND DUBUQUE

Cedar Rapids—Defeated in its last three starts on the local floor, the Coe basketball quintet will seek a change of luck this weekend by changing floors, with a two game trip to Beloit and Dubuque to be made. The Kohawks will play their second game having defeated Coe, 44 to 17, and Dubuque having lost to Coe, 19 to 11, on the Cedar Rapids court.

CONVERT TRAINING CAMPS OF WAR FOR PEACE TIME USES

Fate of Cantonments Varies; Huge Losses Result From Sale Of Material

Chicago—A diversified story of the peace time fortunes of from 20 to 30 major army training camps in 11 central states, revealing the wholesale collapse of these centers which a few years back teemed with the activity of hundreds of thousands of men—a story not without its humor and pathos—is shown in reports from headquarters of various army corps areas of the mid-west.

While no fewer than eight of these army schools have been permitted to lapse wholly from the part they were built to play, others have fallen back merely to their former status as army posts or national guard cantonments and a third, somewhat smaller group, indicates by its present activities that military affairs have not and are not intended to slip back to the level of pre-war days.

Of the 16 camps in Texas, only seven have been definitely closed. Tallahassee Field has become a vast farm and tenants reap the benefits of water, light, sewer and road systems built by soldiers. Camp Bowie, at Fort Worth, has been given over to homesteaders, and at Camp Logan, near Houston, $21,417 was realized for material and equipment which originally cost $1,000,000.

Camp Grant, near Rockford, Ill., built in 1917 to accommodate 45,000 men, has been wholly abandoned, with the exception of a small portion now being used by the Illinois National Guard. The Great Lakes training station, at Great Lakes, Mich., is today headquarters of the Ninth Naval District and counts 350 officers and 7,500 men. During the war hundreds of thousands of men were located there, and many of the buildings have been razed, and others are standing idle. Chanute Field, near Rantoul, is continuing its activity as an air mechanics' school for the entire country, and Scott Field near Belleville, is being used today as a balloon school.

Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., which cost $3,775,000, is now being used as a suburban village, and Camp Knox is serving as an artillery range. Camp Sherman, at Chillicothe, Ohio, is today the site of a veterans' vocational school.

Retention of water filtration, sewage and electric sub-station buildings for use in the event of another mobilization are envisaged in present plans which contemplate the dismantling of all other equipment of Camp-Funkston, Kan. Of the total original cost of this camp, estimated at $1,000,000, only $100,000 of the total during the last two years netted about $750,000.

CLAIMS HUSBAND AT HIS FUNERAL

English Girl Pays With Grief For Marrying Man Out Of Her Class

LONDON—As the mourners, hushed in silence by death, watched the lowering of the coffin of Captain Richard Lambert, war hero and aristocrat, a little figure, pathetically dressed in cheap black, edged her way through the richly-garbed throng.

Some tried to stop her. But there was no staying her. She pushed her way to the grave and cried:

"I am taking my place beside the coffin by supreme right. 'The dead man is my husband'."

The hush grew deadlier. None of the dead men's relatives knew of his second marriage. The mourners quickly dispersed. But one remained. She carefully placed a small bunch of white chrysanthemums on the mound and sobbed:

"Baby Joe says 'Goodbye, Daddy'."

And that was all. The girl was alone in the cemetery, weeping as the coffin was lowered into the ground.

"Once he died me for leaving crumbs on a table."

"Then he fell ill and his relatives took him away to a private hospital, where he died."

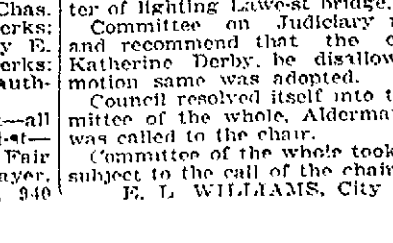

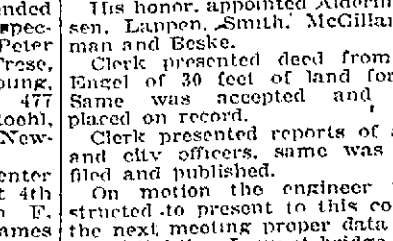

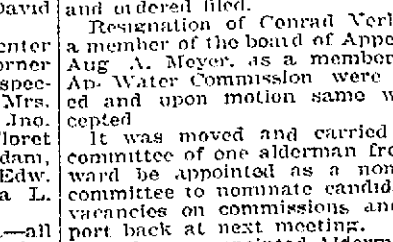

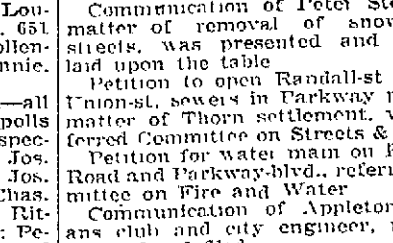

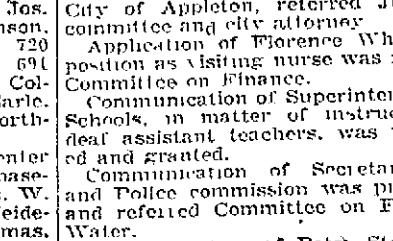

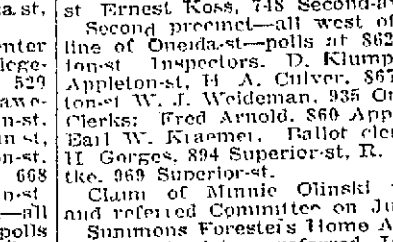

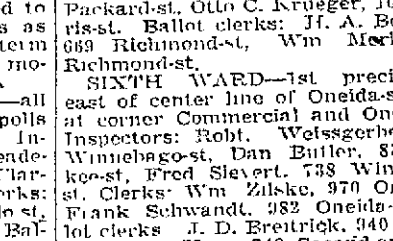

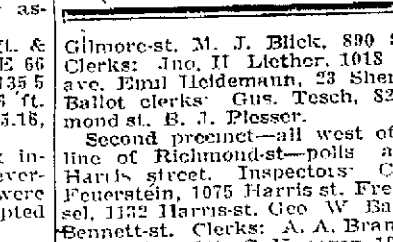

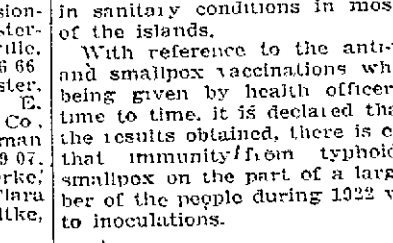

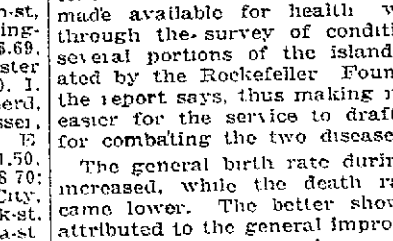

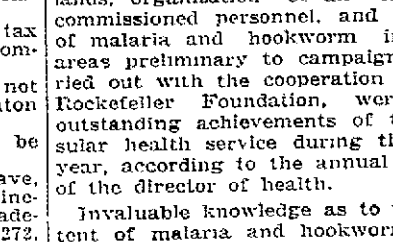

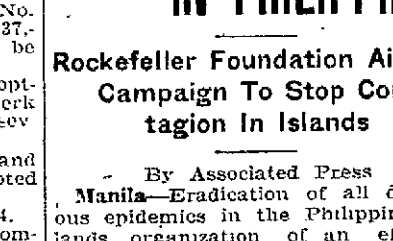

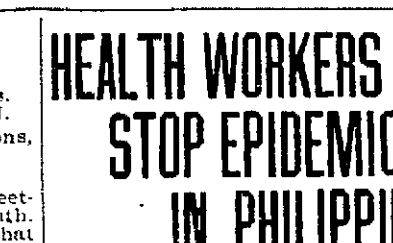

"For a time his relatives sent me 4 pounds a week. After his death they sent me 2 pounds."

"All the time the future holds for Kitty Lambert is search for a job—and 'peck' memories."

"But I can pass on this advice," she said, "that others may be spared the suffering I have to endure."

"Love cannot bridge the difference between a working girl and an aristocrat."

PAYROLLS IN U. S. SHOW HEAVY LOSS IN RECENT YEARS

Collapse Of Last Boom Reduces Pay Of Wage Earners $7,292,000,000

By Associated Press

New York—Collapse of the last boom reduced the total pay of the wage and salary earners of the United States $7,292,000,000, according to figures made public by the National Bureau of Economic Research, Inc., of this city.

From the year of prosperity to the year of depression, annual payroll shrank from $30,883,000,000 to $23,596,000,000.

These figures are taken from the advance sheets of a report entitled "Employment Hours and Earnings in Prosperity and Depression." In this report the bureau embodies the detailed facts discovered in its study of "Business Cycles and Unemployment," recently completed for the late President Harding's conference on unemployment.

The figures covering payments for wages and salaries by the bureau for each quarter, thus permitting an examination of the progress of the boom, its culmination, collapse, and the beginning of recovery. They show that total payments for wages and salaries to all employees by all enterprises of whatever size dropped from $10,472,000,000 in the third quarter of 1920 (peak of boom), to $7,748,000,000 in the first quarter of 1922 (trough of depression), or a maximum cyclical decline of 23.16 per cent.

The industries showing the most striking decline in amounts paid to employees were: first, factories making metals, metal products, vehicles and miscellaneous goods; second, steam railways; and third, concerns engaged in the extraction of minerals.

Enterprises rendering public and professional service actually increased their payments to employees. Concerns classified in the hand trades, finance or retail merchandising reduced their total wage bills but slightly.

Although there are numerous exceptions the average employee, when working for the large concern, puts in fewer hours at higher pay an hour, but in return for this extra compensation he sacrifices much of the security of employment which he would have if he worked for a small enterprise.

The average earnings in 1920 of persons who, in that year, worked in plants employing over 100 workers, was $1,544. In 1921, because of unemployment, their earnings had fallen to $1,112, a loss of $432. Those persons employed in enterprises having fewer than 21 employees received $1,121 each in 1921 but 10¢ of their earnings had declined to $1,077, a diminution of $44. Workers employed in concerns of intermediate size earned on the average $1,354 in 1920 and $1,222 in 1921.

Female employees in general earn about three-fourths as much as males. The business depression of 1921 caused a material decline in rates of pay an hour actually worked only in the fields of agriculture, manufacturing, mining, and steam railways.

The average rates of pay an hour in various industries cover a wide range—the highest figure in 1921 being 74 cents an hour in finance, and the lowest rate being 25 cents an hour in agriculture. The average for all industries at the close of 1921 was 51 cents per hour.

RECKLESSNESS OF MOTORISTS CAUSES CROSSING CRASHES

Railroads Despair At Foolhardiness Of Motoring Public On Roads

By Associated Press

Topeka, Kan.—Railway crossing accidents, increasing at an average rate of 100 percent a year, represent one of the most serious problems now confronting American railroads, according to Isaiah Hale, of Topeka, chairman of the safety section of the American Railway association which comprises virtually all the railway companies in the United States. A "Careful Crossing Campaign" of four months, June to September, has just been completed by all the railroads.

"Railroads are eagerly trying out every imaginable means of averting these appalling disasters," said Mr. Hale, but the persistent disregard of the automobile driving public for its own safety has caused some of us almost to despair. The remedy seems so simple, yet needs such open violation of common sense. It is just three words, Cross Crossings Cautionously.

"The railroad are convinced that, within their own organizations, 'safety first' education gets results. Deaths of employees on duty have been reduced from 434 to 197 to 146 in 1921. This result has been achieved notwithstanding the much larger force of employees during the year 1921."

"In 30 years our country's population has increased 68 percent. In that same period railroad highway crossing accidents have increased 345 percent. These disproportionate increases are entirely to the use of the automobile. In five years 9,101 persons were killed and 24,208 injured at railway highway crossings in the United States."

The fact that at least 50 percent of automobile drivers do not look both ways upon approaching a railroad crossing has been demonstrated in a number of tests conducted along the Santa Fe Railroad recently. Mr. Hale pointed out a count made at a crossing produced the following results: Out of 250 cars checked, drivers of 95 did not look in either direction 49 looked to the right only; 17 looked to left only; one stopped and looked in both directions, and 78 looked each way without stopping.

Instances of automobiles being driven into a passage train are all too common as those in which the automobile is struck by a train. Mr. Hale declared. A typical list compiled by the Pennsylvania Railroad shows an increase of 119 percent in crossing fatalities in July this year as compared with July a year ago.

PHANTOM MAJOR AND 'NUT' BAFFLE SCOTLAND YARD

Skilled English Detectives Can't Get Two Slayers Of Women To Noose

London—Scotland Yard—scorned by Sherlock Holmes, plu-perfect detective, and evaded by Raffles, the master thief, through thousands of pages of fiction—yet considered by the Old World, at least, as the most famous and efficient crime detecting agency—is baffled.

Two men are the reason. Both are wanted for murder. One is in a cell—the other is at large.

Major Norman Bailey, war figure, whose wife was found murdered, has been reported seen at Ramsgate, a fashionable English seaside resort, in several London hotels, in Manchester, on a train bound for Paris, in the French capital, at Bordeaux and in Brussels—he has been sought even in the United States. But has not been apprehended.

The "Phantom Major," as he is known for his seeming ability to condense his much-sought being into thin air, constantly writes Scotland Yard, stating how sorry he is for the murder of his wife, whose body was found in bed in their apartment, with a bullet hole through her head and a French knife thrust into her breast.

Pinned to her night garments was this note: "I have parted with my dearest possession. I hated to do it. She knew nothing. I did not do it for jealousy nor cowardice—but love. Look for me by the sea."

It was thought he might have drowned himself until his letters began to pour into the office of the London police. He also wrote his wife's parents and mailed a servant's pay to her.

Bailey, only 28, is an expert in disguise—an amateur actor who sometimes has taken female parts. It is possible that he has not left London, but is enjoying temporary safety—in skirts and bonnet.

Motive for the crime is just as baffling as the "phantom major's" whereabouts, for there is neither other man nor woman in the case, the police believe.

"Then there is Ronald True, laughing murderer of Gertrude Yates. Condemned to death, his madman's chuckle has laughed him out of hanging. He is now confined to an insane ward."

He laughed when he was looked up by the police, he laughed when the trial judge sentenced him to be hung by the neck until dead, he laughed when he was in the cell of the condemned.

When he was reprieved and sent to Broadmoor Asylum he laughed once more and merely said: "I did it so."

At Broadmoor he has been the life of the party. He has taken part in amateur theatricals and composed words and music for rollicking songs joshing the prison, the keepers and the government.

Gertrude Yates, a beautiful girl who lived alone in an apartment, was found brutally beaten to death. She had been robbed. True was proven to be one of her closest friends. He had her stolen jewelry—and was promptly convicted.

He too, had been an officer in the army. There is a clear definition in Britain that a person should not be executed when he is not in a position to make his peace with God and not in a mental condition to put forward any reasons why he should not be hung.

Some day the medical officers may certify to the government that True is once more sane—as they believe he was when he committed the crime—and liable to hanging.

"The question that will then confront the officers is, whether after True has lived in an asylum for years shall he be taken out and hung or have his sentence commuted to life imprisonment?"

In the meantime, True continues to laugh. Bailey, the "phantom major," is poor, while True, the "laughing murderer," is well connected.

Are their strange plights a result of the war in which they both served? The question is asked.

conscious mind can understand is the language of posture. Whi, my goodness, savages expressed hate and cunning through their bodies before they ever knew how to use words.

So if there's anything the matter with you, fear for instance, what you want to do is to strike up an attitude suggesting fear. And after that—dance out of it into another attitude suggesting its opposite—courage or hope or something like that.

TWO OF EVERYTHING IN SOUTHERN TOWN

Texarkana, Ark.-Tex. — In this city a man can slip on a banana peel in Texas and pick himself up in Arkansas.

Snowballs hurtle through the air from Arkansas and find their marks in breezy Lone Star States, living in their own Texas.

For half of Texarkana's is in one state and half in the other. Right through the center of the town runs State Line avenue. On one side the city is governed by the laws of Arkansas; on the other by the laws of Texas.

TWO OF EVERYTHING

Besides the two state governments, there are two full sets of county officers, two public school systems, two complete municipalities with two mayors, two city councils, two police departments, two U. S. courts—two of nearly everything. At one time two U. S. Senators had their residence in Texarkana—Sheppard of Texas and Kirby of Arkansas.

The federal building and the union station are the only buildings that stand in both states. Besides the postoffice and station the only other things of a public nature that serve both cities are the fire departments, individually owned by each city but operated as one, and a joint sewage disposal plant.

Recently a postal clerk pilfered a letter and the case was taken into the U. S. court for the western district of Arkansas. During the trial the question of jurisdiction was raised and it was necessary to determine whether the offending clerk's work table was located in Arkansas or Texas.

TOUGH TIME

Newspaper reporters have a tough life, for when their work of newsgathering is complete in one state, they hustle over the line and do it all over in the other.

The close individual and official friendship of the twin cities was demonstrated in the recent golden jubilee celebration here, when the governors of Arkansas and Texas and the mayors of Texarkana, Tex., and Texarkana, Ark., marched up State Line avenue and clasped hands across the line.
